

Ike Reaffirms Belief Disarmament Needed

View Stated At Vacation Headquarters

Confers With His Technical Adviser, Harold E. Stassen

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower today reaffirmed that the United States is confident "controls and reduction of arms are possible, desirable and in the last reckoning, indispensable."

The President's view was set forth in a statement issued at his vacation headquarters after he conferred for 75 minutes with Harold E. Stassen, his disarmament adviser.

Stassen flew to Augusta from Washington for the conference and made ready to start back to London for resumption of United Nations disarmament talks there tomorrow.

Those talks which started last month and recessed over the Easter weekend, have caused United States officials to be cautiously hopeful that Russia finally may be ready to take some small first step toward bringing the East-West atomic weapons race under international control.

A statement issued after the conference at the Augusta National Golf Club was carefully worded to guard against any idea of excessive optimism.

The statement, by White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said Eisenhower had encouraged the U. S. delegation "to follow through thoroughly in the resumed negotiations which will start again in London on Wednesday."

Says Rainy Weather To Continue in State

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Nobody could sing the drought blues in Missouri today — it rained again and more is coming.

Showers and thunder storms were forecast for the state this afternoon and tonight. The Weather Bureau said the rainy weather will continue tomorrow in the south and east portions.

Today's thunderstorms may become locally severe in the south central and southeast portions.

The storm that brought heavy rain to Kansas and tornado winds in the central part of that state also carried light to moderate rain to Missouri.

Points that received more than half an inch of precipitation included: Kansas City .84, Malden .71, St. Louis .70, Nevada .67, Rolla .65, Columbia .64, St. Joseph .62, Joplin .61, Springfield and Butler .60.

Money Bill Introduced

Construction Program For State Fair Sought

JEFFERSON CITY (MPA)—The Missouri State Fair would be granted $1,219,500 for a building program in an omnibus appropriation bill introduced Monday in the House.

The omnibus bill is the final appropriation measure of the 69th General Assembly and carries a total of $12,618,686 in appropriations for the state fair, broken down as follows:

$200,000 for rehabilitation and completion of the hog barn.

$78,500 for resurfacing the race track and remodeling track facilities and barns.

$60,000 for rewiring the home economics building, hog barn, 4-H exhibits building, commercial building, agriculture building and women's building.

$750,000 for construction of a youth building to be used also as a highway patrol training building. The building would contain a cafeteria and dormitory.

$55,000 for completion and equipping the sheep pavilion.

$16,000 for remodeling the show horse warmup ring and coliseum; to prepare the machinery exhibit grounds; remodel exhibition space under the grandstand; remodel the Missouri building; and for an addition to the poultry building to provide space for a waterfowl show.

$60,000 to purchase 60 acres north of the M-K-T right-of-way.

Ernest Lee Dow Tops All

Pettis 4-H Dairy Judging Training Day Well Attended

The County 4-H Dairy Judging Training Day, held Saturday at the Earl Wood, Lee Dow, and Sam Freund farms was attended by 24 4-H members and 16 adults.

The county extension agents explained to the 4-H members at the beginning of the judging session what to look for in selecting a good dairy animal and how to give judging reasons. Some of the adult 4-H leaders served as official judges, as well as leading the animals so that the 4-H members could see the animals they were judging.

The 4-H members judged a class of Jersey cows and a class of Jersey heifers at the Earl Wood farm, a class of Holstein cows and a class of Holstein heifers at the Lee Dow farm, and a class of Guernsey cows and a class of Guernsey heifers at the Sam Freund farm.

Ernest Lee Dow ranked first with a total score of 650 points from a possible score of 800. Twelve other high scoring individuals that judged all six classes ranked with the following score: Paul Holman, 605; John Fitzgerald, 595; William Finley, 575; Ella Louise Dow, 570; Charles Bultmeier, 555; Bobby Schell, 550; Tommy Grimes, 540; Bill Raines, 540; Bob DeMoss, 535; Allen Armstrong, 515; Eva Mae Wilkie, 505; and Kenneth Rhine, 495.

The top three judges and their score in each breed were as follows: Holstein, Charles Bultmeier, 235; Paul Holman, 220; and Ernest Lee Dow, 215; Guernsey, Ernest Lee Dow, 235; Paul Holman, 205; and Tommy Grimes, 190. Jerseys, John Fitzgerald, 235; Bobby Schell, 205; William Finley, 200; and Ernest Lee Dow, 200.

The following 4-H members are 12 years old (by Jan. 1, 1957) and are eligible to receive additional dairy judging training for the county 4-H dairy judging team: Paul Holman, Bill Raines, Eva Mae Wilkie, Ernest Lee Dow, Kenneth Rhine, William Finley, Tommy Grimes, Bob DeMoss, Charles Bultmeier and John Fitzgerald. Those who were 14 years of age by Jan. 1, 1957, will receive first chance to be on the judging team, as members of the dairy judging team are required to be 14 years old to go to the state event. However if these members do not rank well in other practice sessions, then those who are 12 and 13 years

Fourth Annual Jaycees Show Has Big Crowd

A full house saw the opening of the Jaycees' fourth annual show at the Convention Hall in Liberty Park. The doors opened at 2:30 Monday afternoon for the Merchandise Fair which will run through Wednesday.

Exhibits were more varied this year, with building materials being predominate. The food line was more in evidence this year, with one exhibit showing frozen food, another picturing the various steps from the farm to consumer.

The lumber yard exhibits featured finished paneling, backyard fencing, fireplaces and do-it-yourself products. One lumber yard is giving away a piece of barbecue equipment.

Other booths are giving various items including ice cream freezers, dresses, hose, free rental of equipment, food items and swimming suits.

A new addition this year is style shows each evening put on by leading clothing stores. Also new cars have been added to the exhibit. No admission is charged.

Was to Assist Eccentric Inventor

Girl Was 'Captive' in Dugout

LONDON (AP)—A 28-year-old brunette claims an eccentric inventor held her captive for 105 days in a dugout beneath the back garden of his suburban home.

Police removed Marjorie Jordan from the underground den yesterday after a neighbor found a penciled note asking for help.

Her captor, John Bridal, 26, told reporters:

"She was not brought here under force, but she needed some persuading. She was not enthusiastic but agreed to help me with my experiments. I did not keep her against her will, except for the first few days."

In a statement to detectives, however, Miss Jordan declared Bridal, a complete stranger, kidnapped her from her bedroom in a lodging house two miles from his home the night of Jan. 7.

She said he taped her mouth, put her on the rear seat of his motorcycle and took her to the underground room. Reached by a shaft made from a large pipe, the room was 10 feet long, 4 feet wide and 7 feet high. The shaft exit was secured by a screw-down cover of the manhole type.

"He said, 'I need an assistant for some experiments I am going to make on metal work and machinery,'" Miss Jordan reported.

"He would come to the room each night and let me come up to his house. He would stand guard outside the bathroom door while I washed. Then he would lead me back to the room."

In his statement, Bridal said he was "perfecting a grinding machine and a coal conveyor. She

Missouri Pacific Asks Restraining Order On Independence Suit

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Missouri Pacific Railroad, with a proxy fight looming ahead, asked Federal Judge George H. Moore yesterday for a temporary restraining order against a suit filed last week in Independence, Mo.

The suit, filed in Jackson County Circuit Court by Thomas B. Shearman of Lake Charles, La., asked discontinuance of the method of electing directors on a three-year staggered basis.

Shearman also asked that a May 14 stockholders meeting be postponed.

The hearing date for Sherman's petition will be in Independence Thursday, the same day Judge Moore will hear the railroad's petition here.

Says UN Should Get Suez Problem

Has No Objection To American Ships Going Thru Canal

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary Dulles said today the question of operating the Suez Canal should be placed quickly before the U. N. Security Council—possibly tomorrow or Thursday.

Dulles also told a news conference the United States has no objection to American ships going through the canal, but advises that tolls be paid under protest.

Dulles refused to speculate on what the United States might do if Egypt rejects the Suez formula adopted by the security council and pressed by the United States in talks at Cairo.

Dulles indicated a final decision by Egypt is expected shortly. But when asked if that meant within 48 hours, he said he had no such official information.

Dulles emphasized the United States would seek no action by the Security Council, that the U.S. move would be in the nature of a report.

On other matters, Dulles said:

1. The State Department favors letting American newsmen to go to Red China in a strictly limited number and on a pool basis provided there is assurance this would not lower the bars generally to travel by Americans to the Communist-held China mainland.

He said the State Department continues to be receptive to suggestions from news leaders on how this can be done.

2. The United States sees no way that nuclear test explosions can be halted at this time without risking giving Russia a chance to gain a decisive upper hand in atomic power.

3. He considers Scott McLeod highly qualified to be ambassador to Ireland—a post for which President Eisenhower nominated McLeod on Dulles' recommendations.

However, Dulles smilingly conceded that four years ago when McLeod first became State Department security officer they did not always see eye-to-eye.

4. Russia's decision to make public at this time warnings the Kremlin sent Britain and France before the Suez fighting last fall appears to be an effort to make propaganda in the Middle East.

5. Whether the United States meets with Russia again in an East-West conference depends largely on whether the Russians are seriously ready to move forward in such fields as disarmament, freedom for the satellites and German reunification, or whether they are simply interested in making propaganda.

6. Harold E. Stassen, President Eisenhower's special disarmament aide, has no new instructions as he returns today to London disarmament talks. The Russians appear more serious about making progress than in propagandizing, and that is a hopeful sign.

Human Rights Proposal Out; Racing, Betting Bill Passes

Earlier Bill Is Forfeited By Sponsor

Latest One Would Be On Local Option Basis Across State

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—The House Commerce Committee last night approved a second horserace and betting bill. An earlier one died in the House after the author declined to try to pass it.

The latest one would be on a local option basis. Any area wishing to establish horse race meetings would have to vote its approval. All state revenues would go to the public school fund or apply toward state and local fair premiums.

A dog racing bill is pending in the Senate.

Yesterday, the House overran a bloc of bitter opposition in passing a retirement plan for state workers. Big arguing point was a section providing that legislators with six years' service would get at least $75 a month pension at age 65.

The average state employee would get only five-sixths of one per cent of his average annual pay, times the number of years he worked.

Thus a man getting $2,400 average pay for 20 years would be eligible to receive only $400 a year or a little over $33 a month.

Sponsors, however, promised they would try to get the Senate to take out the more objectionable features of the bill.

The House received the last big appropriation measure, the so-called "omnibus" bill, totaling $12,618,687. It contains overlooked items or those that just didn't fit into the regular money bills. Bigger items included:

County road aid $4 million, an addition to the highway department laboratory at Jefferson City $360,000, a district garage at Sikeston $225,000, an addition to the St. Joseph highway district office $125,000, an addition to the men's gymnasium at the University of Missouri $350,000, to the adjutant general for armory construction and repairs $510,000; $125,000 for building sites for Warrensburg State College, about $14 million for construction and repairs at the state fair grounds in Sedalia, $113,420 for storm sewers at Fulton State Hospital, $150,000 for razing the state's old power plant west of the capitol and converting the area to a state parking lot.

To State Hospital No. 3 at Nevada $90,000 for additions, $150,000 to the State Conservation Commission for matching federal funds toward dredging big lake in Big Lake State Park, and $350,000 for land and construction at the proposed Delta Research Center, to further Southeastern Missouri agricultural research.

Says Tractor Not Involved In Accident

Coroner Gene Bartram, of Morgan County, reported a tractor, which was discussed in connection with the fatal accident near Syracuse in which William I. Edwards was instantly killed last Saturday was in no way involved.

Coroner Bartram said Monday an investigation was conducted by himself and Sheriff J. T. Hull, and they learned the tractor which was mentioned by Don F. Siebold, of Kansas City, was driven by Emmett Brauer, 17. They learned the tractor was definitely in the clear and did not influence the accident.

Brauer, according to Coroner Bartram did not see the accident as he had already cleared the area and was beyond the point of the accident and couldn't see it.

Siebold had told officers Saturday he saw a tractor and thought maybe Harley S. Dodson, 21, Kansas City, driver of the other car may have been endeavoring to avoid it and thus caused him to crash into the Edwards automobile.

Siebold was traveling in one car and Dodson in a second and they were enroute to Jefferson City.

Both Sheriff Hull and Coroner Bartram upon hearing of this information checked into the matter, learned Bauer was the driver, and talked with him. They also talked with other witnesses and they too indicated he was definitely clear of any influence on the accident.

Bauer had been subpoenaed to appear at the inquest. After talking with him and the officers, Prosecuting Attorney William Johnson indicated that inasmuch as he did not see the accident occur he could not shed any light on what had happened, and was not called to testify.

Remember?

Some Sedalians expressed surprise when told of the storm Monday night. Others remembered being jolted from their slumber by lightning and the thunder.

Mostly cloudy tonight and Wednesday with scattered showers and thunderstorms beginning early tonight and continuing through Wednesday morning; decreasing cloudiness Wednesday afternoon; little change in temperature through tonight, turning a little cooler Wednesday; low tonight near 60; high Wednesday in mid-70s.

The temperature at 7 a.m. was 59, 69 at 1 p.m., and 70 at 2 p.m. Low Monday night 59.

The temperature one year ago today, high 54 low 28, with .01 inch of moisture; two years ago, high 84, low 69; and three years ago, high 75, and low 51.

Detectives studying the conflicting statements took no immediate official action.

Vote Is 71-21 Against Start Of Commission

Opponents Say It Would Cause More Tension, Not Ease It

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—For the second time the Missouri House defeated a "human rights commission" bill today.

Yesterday it was rejected on a 71-21 vote, with 79 affirmative votes for passage.

Today sponsors asked the House to reconsider that action and further the cause of racial and religious equality by establishing the 11-man human rights commission the bill proposed. The commission would have the power to investigate any charges of racial or religious discrimination, hold public hearings, subpoena witnesses and records and recommend legislative changes.

Opponents said it would set up a state inquisition and would foment strife between races or religions instead of proposing ways to eliminate it.

After more than an hour's sharp argument the bill was again defeated, this time on a 76-33 vote, giving it just three less than the necessary number for passage.

It was "second look" day throughout the morning session. Four bills that were defeated by the House fees and salaries committee were raised from the grave and sent back to the committee so further evidence could be heard.

All four were killed by the committee April 3, the day after the state's voters soundly defeated the proposed pay for legislators from $125 a month to $300, plus mileage once a week during legislative sessions instead of once a session.

The revived bills would give pay raises to St. Louis magistrates, the St. Louis coroner, the state highway commission's chief engineer and the clerk of the St. Louis appeals court marshal.

Reconsidered and passed was a bill defeated yesterday, 71-41. It would raise the pay of the clerk of the St. Louis Court of Criminal Corrections from $6,000 to $10,000 a year.

The Senate came back from a short Easter recess at 1 p.m.

Plans Are Complete For Armed Forces Day Banquet, Meeting

Sedalia's tribute to Armed Forces Day is progressing with plans for the banquet meeting at Smith-Cotton High School cafeteria complete. Maj. Gen. Bernard A. Schriever, commanding general in charge of guided missile research and development at Inglewood, Calif., has accepted an invitation to be the principal speaker.

Because of limited space at the cafeteria, the seating at the banquet has been set at 625. Sedalia has been allocated 300 tickets, 200 will go to the Whiteman AFB personnel, and the remaining 125 will be distributed to surrounding communities.

Sedalia tickets are now available at the Chamber of Commerce office, and the projected program is "first come first served."

"When Sedalia's allotment is out—that's it", the arrangements committee spokesman said.

Men Attempt Extortion From Doctor

CHICAGO (AP)—Two men beat and abducted a psychiatrist yesterday but their plan to get him to withdraw $5,000 from a bank backfired when he tipped off a bank official and one of the men was caught by police.

Police seized a 23-year-old man in the car of the intended victim of the extortion, Dr. Eli Bader, 40, who maintains an office in the Loop. His companion fled from in front of the Michigan Avenue National Bank.

Police held for further questioning Bruce Pomaville, 23, formerly of Seattle, who police said admitted his part in the plot. They said he also identified his companion and a woman who also was connected with the case.

Bader said he had gone to a North Side apartment yesterday noon to keep an appointment made in a telephone call by a woman identifying herself as Helen Goldberg. He said Pomaville and another man were in the apartment and one of them hit him on the head with a blackjack and told him to get $30,000 from his bank.

His captors drove him in his car to the bank in the Loop and under threats of death and violence ordered him to withdraw the money. Bader told police he argued with the two men that he did not have that much money and they agreed to accept $5,000.

Inside the bank, Bader whispered the story to a bank official who telephoned police, giving the location and license number of Bader's car. Detectives arrived at the bank before Bader emerged with the money and seized Pomaville in Bader's car.

Police said Pomaville told them he was born in Racine, Wis., was discharged from the Navy in 1954 as undesirable and has been traveling around the country.

Cape Girardeau Woman Named 'Mrs. Missouri'

"Mrs. Missouri of 1958", Mrs. Mary Alice Eaker of Cape Girardeau, Mo. will be officially designated Missouri's representative to the Mrs. America contest at ceremonies to take place in the Capitol Building, Mrs. Eaker will be crowned "Mrs. Missouri 1958" by Lt. Governor Long in his offices at 3 p.m. Wednesday.

Following the crowning ceremony Mrs. Missouri will be escorted to the Singer Sewing Center, Jefferson City, where she will be presented with many valuable prizes which are hers as a result of having won the crown in a statewide competition in Jefferson City recently.

Announcement of the Wednesday ceremonies was made by J. S. Winkelman, district manager and supervisor of the Mrs. America contest for Missouri.

Next on the docket for Mrs. Eaker is an all-expense trip to Fort Lauderdale for herself and her husband. There she'll compete with homemakers from every state in the Union, plus the District of Columbia, for the title of "Mrs. America".

Warren Attends Annual Meeting In Ft. Worth

A. B. Warren, registered pharmacist and manager of Main Street Drug Store attended the eighth annual seminar and convention of the American Animal Health Pharmaceutical Association in Ft. Worth, Tex. April 14-16.

The meeting was a huge success from an educational standpoint, many deans of colleges of pharmacy were in attendance and on various sections of the program. The following ten points were stressed:

1. Animal medicines enable a higher percentage of animals to reach useful maturity.
2. The animals reach maturity earlier in life, and thus they become productive or are ready to market after a minimum investment in time and money.
3. Animal medicines produce a higher yield on animal products—bigger eggs, more milk, better wool, etc.
4. They contribute to greater fertility and higher litter size among animals.
5. They foster a better quality of animals, with higher sales value.
6. They enable animals to lead a longer productive life.
7. They increase the efficiency of work animals.
8. They are a factor in the efficient and profitable use of feed and pastureland.
9. They help to insure that capital investments in barns, pens, and other properties pay off in a profit.
10. They enable the farmer to spend his time profitably in the care of productive animals, rather than unprofitably in the care of unproductive animals.

Model TV

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)—When Henry Ford made his Model A he was equipped with television, but it was in Hollywood.

Jesse James, 20, is a parking attendant at a night spot. He needed some way to while away the long night hours. So he installed a $115 television set in his Model A. Ford, vintage 1928, for which he paid only $5.

James put the TV in the trunk of the car. He hooks it up to the parking lot floodlight system. Now he can pull up an easy chair, open the trunk and watch the late, late show.

"Of course I have to get up every once in a while to park a car or two," he said, "but I try to do that during the commercials."

Trumans Will Attend Rotary Convention

Heading the list of distinguished guests at the 1957 District Conference, Rotary International, April 25 and 26, at Independence, Mo., will be former President Harry S. Truman and Mrs. Truman. Phil Weeks, conference chairman, announced this week. They will attend the banquet on Friday evening, the second day of the two-day event, when William L. Shirer, ace radio reporter, news analyst, author and international commentator, will speak.

Plans are complete now for the affair which is expected to attract more than 600 Rotarians and their wives during the two days which are crammed full of all kinds of entertainment (for both men and women) besides the regular business sessions. Twenty-one clubs in western Missouri are in the district, Chairman Weeks warns that reservations should be made this week at the latest to assure hotel accommodations.

Registration will take place at 10 a.m. Thursday, April 25 in the R.L.D.S. Auditorium, where a luncheon and banquet will be held each day. Business sessions will be in the church's educational building, one block from the auditorium.

On Thursday, April 25, Dr. Sylvia Sorkin, recognized national authority and lecturer on personnel, business and financial management and problems involving human relations, will speak at the luncheon. She is currently serving as a member of Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson's Defense Advisory Committee, on Women in the Services. Her subject will be "Would You Hire Yourself, boss?"

Those who arrive too late for the noon luncheon can either see the baseball game between the Kansas City Athletics and the Cleveland Indians at Kansas City Municipal Stadium; participate in a golf tournament at Rockwood Country Club or take part in a bowling contest. There will also be a Ladies' Musical Tea during the afternoon.

The address at the banquet on Thursday night will be by "Bish" Thompson, winner of the Ernie Pyle Memorial Award. He will speak on "The Voice of Angels." A fashion show will also be a part of the program. I. L. Peters, district governor, of Warrensburg, will preside.

A district club breakfast is scheduled for 7:30 a.m. on Friday. Rotarians will have a very full day from then on with plenary sessions in the morning and afternoon. Mayor H. Roe Bartle of Kansas City will give the address at the noon luncheon on "Rotary Around the World." He is a past district governor.

Following the afternoon business session, Gene Conklin of Junction City, Kansas, Rotary International director, and for three years member and chairman of the youth committee, directing the youth activities of the 7,000 Rotary clubs of the world, will speak. In connection with his Rotary service he has appeared before groups in the United States, Canada, Cuba, Mexico and Europe. He is a public relations consultant.

The Governor's reception, with all past district governors and their ladies in the line, will precede the banquet Friday night.

Successfully Grows Avocado Plant

It was in February of last year that Mrs. F. D. Tubising, 1904 South Stewart, bought some avocados at a local grocery store and as she was seeding them at home later decided to plant one of the seeds.

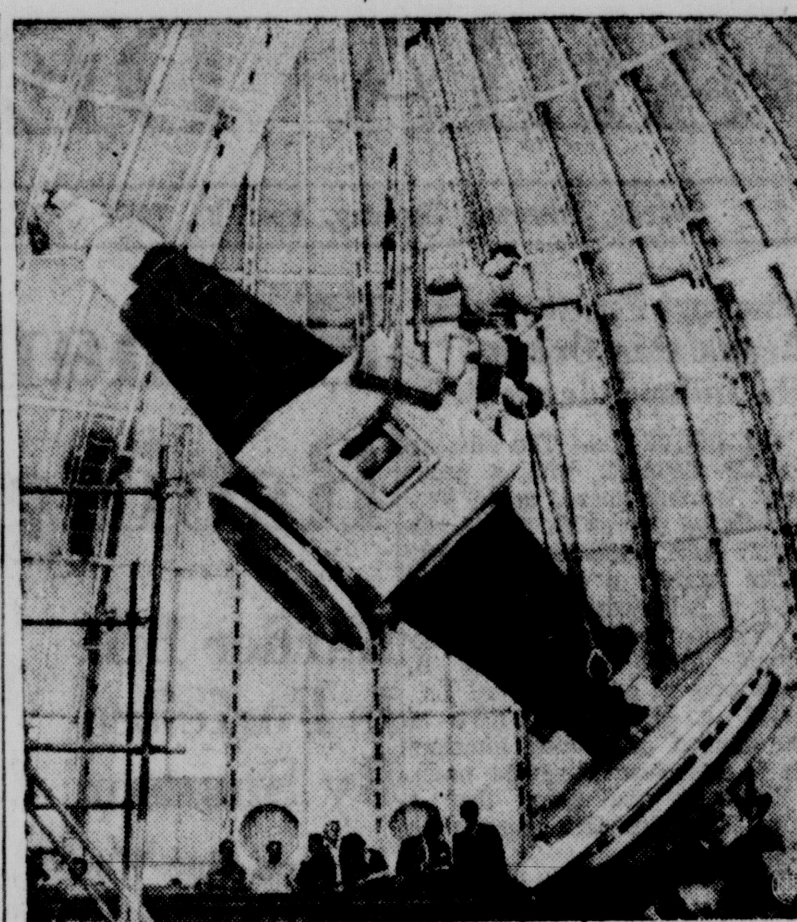

The seed sprouted and grew, it seemed like about a foot at a time, and now lacks only a little of reaching the ceiling in her home. It is a beautiful plant with leaves about ten inches long.

THE BIG EYE—The giant axle of the world's second largest telescope is ridden in position by a construction worker high above the floor of the observatory at St. Michel de Provence, France. The 1½-ton mirror for the telescope is being completed in Paris. When finished the big eye will be second only to the telescope at Mount Palomar, Calif.

Missouri Second In Federal Aid Highway Mileage

WASHINGTON (AP)—Missouri had 1,128.5 miles of federal-aid highway projects under way April 1—the second largest mileage of any state.

Total cost of the projects, the Bureau of Public Roads reported, is $105,788,000 of which the federal government's share is $74,580,000.

Texas, with 1,678.6 miles, had the most mileage reported under way at a total cost of $153,675,000. Kansas was third with 1,063.5 miles with a total cost of $41,826,000.

Some states with less mileage had greater costs due to the type of work being done.

Missouri had $154,326,000 federal aid highway work under way or in the active planning stages as of March 31. Federal funds involved in the total of 2,366.5 miles of projects amounted to $96,577,000, the state furnishing the remainder of the cost.

In addition to the project under way, contracts were advertised but construction has not yet begun on 22.9 miles of federal aid highways in Missouri to cost an estimated $11,672,000 of which the federal share is $9,830,000.

Projects programmed but not advertised totaled $36,866,000 of which $22,161,000 would be the federal share. These projects would over 1,215 miles. The report said that Missouri's unprogrammed balance as of March 31 amounted to $43,791,000.

D. Voigt Serving With Navy in Calif.

David J. Voigt, airman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry R. Voigt, Concordia, is serving with Carrier Airborne Early Warning Squadron 1 at the Naval Air Station, North Island, San Diego, Calif.

The squadron warns of approaching enemy aircraft and ships; it also aids in anti-submarine protection of Naval forces at sea.

Pretty cake decoration: melt half of a square of unsweetened chocolate with half a teaspoon of butter or margarine over hot water; dip pink mints (each about the size of a quarter) into the chocolate so the candies are half covered. Stick the mints around the edge of a chocolate frosted cake to give a pink-and-brown border.

More Rough Weather Hits Plains Area

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
More turbulent weather pounded the storm-battered southern and central plains today after yesterday's eruption of 18 tornadoes in Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas.

Severe thunderstorms and heavy rain continued during the night along a 700-mile front. The spring storms reached as far north as central Nebraska and extended southward in a solid line through the central sections of Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas.

Damaging wind and hail storms hammered some areas and rainfall in a six-hour period last night measured more than an inch in many places.

Wet weather was in prospect for most areas from the Rockies to the Atlantic Coast.

Eight tornadoes were sighted or struck in Texas yesterday, two less than skipped across the nation's biggest state Sunday. Five twisters were reported in Kansas and five in Oklahoma. No injuries were reported in the tornadoes but there was considerable property damage.

The steady spring downpours in Texas appeared to have broken the state's seven-year drought but also have posed new flood threats in some areas.

East of the stormy weather, a smaller squall line brought heavy rain near the Mississippi River in western Tennessee. Showers and light rain fell in most areas east of the Mississippi River, with only New England, Florida and the Gulf Coast states escaping the wetting.

Fire Destroys Store

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Firemen from seven cities couldn't cope with a blaze that destroyed the big Red X Market in suburban Riverside last night.

Firemen estimated the loss at more than a half million dollars. The owner, E. H. Young, said his $200,000 insurance coverage "wasn't a drop in the bucket" compared to the loss.

The fire started in a stock room of the store, which was the largest in the north suburban area. The store had grown from a small filling station since 1948. Young said he would rebuild.

RUPTURE

SHIELD-EXPERT, H. L. Hoffman of Minneapolis and Chicago will demonstrate, without charge, his "Lock-O-Matic" Shields in SEDALIA—HOTEL BOWWELL THURSDAY, APRIL 25 from 10 A. M. to 3 P. M. Please come early. Mr. Hoffman says: "After 30 years during which I have personally fitted over 20,000 cases of hernia, I have produced and patented the AMAZING Lock-O-Matic. It's exclusive LINK-LOCK adjustment to everyone's need virtually guaranty perfect Retention of your Rupture setting a new standard for effectiveness and comfort. Why wear antiquated and unsatisfactory trusses that always enlarge the opening. Remember: The Best is none too good if you are ruptured. Caution: If neglected, rupture may cause weakness, backache, nervousness, stomach and gas pains. Those having large ruptures which have returned after operation or injection are especially invited.

Beauty Care Should Always Be in Private

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

One of the most unattractive things a woman can do is to make up her face in public, particularly in a restaurant. Yet countless women do it daily.

At the end of luncheon or dinner, they whip out compact and soiled puff, lipstick and sometimes a comb and do a thorough and thoroughly disillusioning (to those who see it) job. Then the compact is snapped shut with a businesslike click and dropped back into the handbag.

But the woman has lost, not gained in the eyes of those who watch her. The powder room is the place and the only place for such repairs, for there's another angle to this unsightly habit.

For the sake of the skin, fresh make-up should never be applied over stale. In the powder room, you can do a quick and complete job without robbing your audience of illusions about your charms.

Even if you don't do an annual spring housecleaning, spring does somehow lend itself to tasks that have gone untended all winter. Among these are cleaning out the closets and kitchen cupboards and scrubbing same. While this is fine for the house, it's rough on beauty.

So, before you start your cleaning campaign, undertake the protection of your good looks. Hands should be sheathed in rubber gloves and creamed when you've finished work. Hair should be protected by a scarf tied turban style.

Give your face a thorough cream and lotion cleansing as soon as the cleaning jobs are finished. If the weather permits, have the windows open while you work so that you breathe a little dust as possible.

Nature didn't bless all of us with thick, nicely shaped eyebrows. Most of us have eyebrows in need of shaping and plucking and the help of an eyebrow pencil.

But the hand that reshapes a brow has to be skillful. The painted brow that arches into the hairline, the one that is too thick or too thin, the line that is too dark or too light, any one of these detracts from beauty.

You'll need to experiment, of course, before you find the right brow line. Try to leave some brow hairs in, particularly at the start of the brow, in order to insure a natural look. Don't draw the brows on in one hard, shiny line. Use quick, short strokes that copy the brow hairs.

And when you've finished, powder over the brow lightly to take away that shine. Use a swansdown or lamb's wool puff in order to fluff the powder on lightly. And take care of those stragglers under (never above) the brow line. They should be plucked once a week.

Fifty-one cadets at the U. S. Air Force Academy have fathers who also are in the Air Force, twenty of the fathers being pilots.

Attention Brides

Attention all brides and the brides-to-be: Beginning Sunday, April 28, we will revive an old policy concerning bridal photographs. To have your picture appear in a Sunday edition it must be in the newsroom within 15 days following the ceremony. Pictures received later will appear in a weekly edition. All pictures must be in the newsroom before or by Thursday if they are to appear in the Sunday edition. Thus if you were married April 14 your picture could be in the paper April 21 or April 28.

Stephen College Club Holds Discussion

Mrs. A. R. Beach was hostess to the Stephen College Club Monday, April 22, at 7:30 p. m.

A dessert course was served to nine members at tables attractively decorated in spring-like pastel colors and arrangements of spring flowers.

Following the dessert course Miss Marion Keens president, presided over a short business session. The program was again a round table discussion, the main topic of which was the advantage of modern day education for women. Also, the college courses that are now available to meet the cultural phase of life as well as useful and practical knowledge. Courses adapted to building careers necessary in the business world, too, were discussed.

Attending the meeting were: Mrs. A. R. Beach, Mrs. G. W. Chambers, Mrs. Sid Condit, Mrs. P. W. Henry, Mrs. Fred Lange, Mrs. G. H. Routsong, Mrs. C. E. Van Horn Miss Marion Keens and Miss Margaret Ferguson.

Easy Way To Delight Kiddies

Holsum "Cookie Cutter" Sandwich

"Youngsters love surprises," says Betty Baker, Home Economist for American Research Kitchen. "Try this trick which turns the simple luncheon sandwich into a delightful 'party snack.' Put one slice of fresh, tender Holsum white bread and one slice of flavorful Holsum wheat bread together and cut a design out of the center with a cookie cutter. Fit white cutout section into wheat slice and vice versa. Spread with any favorite filling. For clever children's party sandwiches, make the sandwiches of wheat and white, and cut into design, with cookie cutter. Holsum 'Cookie Cutter' sandwiches are not only novel—they're so good for the youngsters, too. Every slice of Holsum Bread is enriched with minerals and vitamins... and filled with energy-giving food value."

Carl S. Barton, 58, formerly of Sedalia, died at General Hospital in Kansas City, April 18.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Bertha Shultz, 431 East 24th; his father, Charles Barton, 1001 South Missouri and two half brothers, Arthur and Archie Barton, 431 East 24th.

Many years ago, Barton was crippled in an explosion in a mill, and had been an invalid since.

Funeral services were held at the Kidwell Funeral Home in Versailles at 10 a.m. Tuesday, with burial in the Versailles Cemetery.

Leslie Noble

Leslie Noble, 71, Chattanooga, Tenn., a brother of Mrs. J. E. Cannaday, 420 South Park, died Saturday unexpectedly and funeral services were held at 10 a.m. Tuesday at Alton, Ill., with burial in the family lot at that place.

He is survived by three children. In former years he made occasional visits in Sedalia.

Labels Aid Argument As 'Phony'

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Secretary of Welfare Folsom today labeled as "simply a phony" the argument that federal aid for classroom construction would mean federal control of education.

Folsom said this is a "major fallacy" raised by some critics of the administration's proposal for a four-year program to provide 325 million dollars annually in grants to the states to help build more schools.

And he reiterated that opponents of the proposal who he said contend that "the classroom shortage is a myth or figment of imagination" have made seriously misleading and clearly inaccurate public statements. Reports from state school authorities, he said, show a shortage of about 159,000 classrooms.

A House subcommittee has approved a 6-1 five-year 400-million-dollar annual grant program as a compromise between the administration's bill and a more liberal proposal introduced by Democrats. Action by the full House committee is expected early next month.

Folsom, returning to his former home city to receive the Rotary Club's 1957 public service award, said in a prepared speech: "Let us understand what is proposed here. The federal government would allocate some funds to the states. The states would put in some money too, and then the state would administer grants to the local communities which need help very badly to provide schools for their children."

"So even in the building of the schools, the federal connection would be pretty remote. "But even more important, by the time the first teacher or student entered the new school, when the actual education of children begins, there would no longer be any federal involvement or connection whatsoever."

Mr. John Speaks Before Rotary Club On Monday

John Strine, known professionally in Sedalia as Mr. John, was the speaker at Rotary Club meeting Monday noon at Bothwell Hotel, at which time he gave a classification talk on "Addressing, Local, State and International" and gave the educational requirements of an operator.

The Rev. Thomas W. Croxton, president, presided over the meeting. Invocation was by the Rev. Robert Lehigh and singing was by Aubrey Case with Miss Lillian Fox at the piano.

Dr. Gordon Stauffer, chairman of "On to the Conference, April 25-26" outlined the two day program.

Don S. Lamm, chairman of the rural-urban committee, announced there would be a meeting in the near future.

Guests introduced by Boyd Massey were S. P. Johns, Seattle, Wash., guest of C. E. Messerly; George Gardner, St. Louis, guest of John Brown, Jr.; Student Rotarians Charles Arnest and Richard Parkhurst; and Rotarian L. E. Moody, Jefferson City, guest of Dick Snow.

Roving Rotarians were: Jack Stennet, Joplin; Dr. L. S. Geiger, Huntington, Tenn.; Harry Welch, Springfield; Frank Bryant, Wichita, Kan.; Dick Snow, Hughesville; Boyd Massey, and O. W. Wiley, Clinton and Jack Cunningham, Carthage.

Body of Airliner Victim Is Found, Brought to Baghdad

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP)—The body of Jack Nash of Memphis, Tenn., who was sucked out of a plane window in a strange accident during a flight over Iraq, was brought here today.

The body was found 25 miles south of Kirkuk yesterday. It will be taken to the United States.

Nash, 31-year-old bachelor who had a fondness for travel, was on a world tour aboard an Air France Constellation when the glass of the plane window where he was sitting was shattered Saturday. It was theorized that the sudden difference in air pressure inside the cabin and outside space drew him through the opening. The four-engine plane was at 18,000 feet altitude.

French aviation authorities opened an investigation into the accident. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nash, parents of the Memphis man, flew to Paris yesterday en route to the Middle East.

at Bothwell Hospital following a brief illness.

He was a veteran of World War II, serving in the Pacific Theatre. He was employed as a baker at the Dillon, Yancey and Thomas Pastry Shops.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Gertrude Bell; five children, Robert Jr., Cassandra, Donnelly, Walter and Larry, all of the home; his mother, Mrs. Penelope Bell, also of the family home; one brother, the Rev. John Bell, Omaha, Neb.; three sisters, Miss Penelope Bell, Omaha, Neb.; Mrs. Dorothy Smith, Kansas City, Kan., and Miss Carrie Lee Bell, of the home; his grandmother, Mrs. Penny Lewis of Marshall; and four uncles and five aunts.

The body was taken to the Ferguson Funeral Home to await funeral arrangements.

Former Actress Happy To Have a Clerk's Job

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Frances Farmer, who once made $1,500 a week as a movie star, is thankful now to be working as a $70-a-week reservations clerk at the Sheraton-Palace Hotel.

"San Franciscans are extremely civilized people to let me get down to the business of living," Miss Farmer said yesterday. "Trim and attractive at 40, Miss Farmer said drinking and emotional difficulties ruined her acting career. She advises others in search of fame and fortune: "You had better be sure you know what you want out of life."

The girl who began her career as an usher in a Seattle, Wash., theater said her chief interest now is settling down as plain Frances Anderson.

DAILY RECORD

Police Court

Donald L. Smith, 1903 South Ingram, charged with parking over 20 minutes in a loading zone in the 200 block on South Lamine, forfeited a $2 cash bond. Smith also forfeited a $10 cash bond for not having a city license sticker on the windshield of his car.

Walter Clarence Day, Mission, Kan., picked up by the police Monday morning on a charge of vagrancy, appeared before Judge Willard Morris in police court Tuesday. He pleaded innocent to the charge but, after a hearing, was sentenced to ten days in the city jail.

Charges against Arthur Lewis and George W. Lewis, of LaMonte, in connection with violation of a city ordinance prohibiting exhibiting or causing or permitting to be exhibited lewd, indecent or obscene print on their truck, were dismissed in police court.

They appeared at police headquarters and had painted out the disputed part of the sign on their truck.

Dismissal was requested by City Attorney James Durely and Chief of Police Edgar Neighbors.

The Rev. Raymond Walter, Pilot Grove, charged with improper parking by blocking two parking meters in the 100 block on South Ohio, forfeited a $2 cash bond.

Vernon Mueller, 106 South Ohio, charged with parking on Ohio between 2 and 6 a.m. in the 100 block on South Ohio, forfeited a $2 cash bond.

Fifteen overtime parkers failed to appear in police court and their cash bonds of $1 each were ordered forfeited. There were 48 others who paid the 25-cent fee.

Bennie W. Schaberg, 926 East 13th, charged with speeding 40 miles per hour in a 30-mile zone, Stewart to Grand on Broadway, forfeited a $10 cash bond.

Harrison Richardson, Kansas City, charged with careless driving in connection with an accident at Broadway and Massachusetts, pleaded guilty and was fined $25.

Richard Dorweiler, 17, of 2500 South Ohio, who appeared before Judge Willard Morris, Saturday in connection with being picked up at 12th and Kentucky with a group of boys reportedly using loud and profane language, did not plead guilty in police court, nor did Ralph Dean Naylor, 17, of 1800 South Kentucky, last Saturday morning. Dorweiler denies he used loud and profane language, but was with the group of boys.

Judge Willard Morris, in discussing the case, stated he did not sentence the boys to jail, but had them committed for several hours.

"The boys appeared before me in court and when I mentioned a possible jail sentence, they smiled. I had them held for a short period for a lesson, not punishment as has been reported," Judge Morris stated today.

The Dorweiler boy said his car stopped running and they were pushing the car home.

"There was some loud talking, but it was not me," the youth reported.

Fashions For Summer Are Modeled at Style Show

Fashions for the summer season were shown Monday night at the opening night of the Merchandise Fair sponsored by the Jaycees by Connor-Waggoner, when a group of women modeled Miss Simplicity Dresses. These dresses are all guaranteed washable and come in many styles and material in regular, half-sizes and stouts.

Modeling were Mrs. Helen Bond, Mrs. Robert England, Mrs. George Arquitt, Mrs. A. W. Haller, Virginia Chamberlain and Barbara Kelley.

Mrs. Bond modeled a simple dress of gingham, styled with reversible collar, with orange buttons to match the stripes. The gored skirt had button trim pockets. Another dress she modeled was of blue and white plaid gingham, sleeveless with convertible collar, with gathered yoke in front and back. This gored skirt, too, has pockets and the dress is buttoned down the back. Mrs. Bond also modeled a dotted swiss of white with tiny blue dots and V neckline. The blouse fastened with double row of buttons and patch pockets trimmed the skirt. Her fourth dress was a dark cotton with splashes of flowers. The low neckline and sleeves were edged with black velvet and the belt was black velvet.

Mrs. Robert England wore a cotton skirt maker in finely drawn stripe accent with wide bands of embroidery. The clever neckline anchored with a gold pin matching the buttons. This needs little ironing. A sheer gingham dress of lime, grey and white plaid with notched collar. It is a coat dress in printed cotton. Trimmed with lace edging and pockets, and graceful skirt. Another coat dress she modeled was of dashing print of green and orange over beige and white plaid, styled with square neckline. She also modeled a sun dress in chain printed cotton with full skirt.

Mrs. George Arquitt modeled a floral print with a concealed zipper front closing, the yoke trimmed with baby tucks and a bias fold outlining the yoke. It has flared skirt and short sleeves. She also modeled a dainty cotton dimity with shell pleating trim and tiny tucked yoke. A cascade of buttons down the front. Another dress worn by Mrs. Arquitt was a sheer of maize color with tiny black dots. The beautiful fabric in this dress is washable. It has V neckline, yoke outlines in white embroidery and fastens with white pearl buttons. She also wore a sheer plaid gingham with lovely collar and bias front which cascades into a front panel.

Mrs. Haller modeled a pastel scenic floral pattern, wash fast, cotton, with floating skirt. This sun dress is tabled with contrasting looping. Another dress she modeled was at an with black lace in combined cotton with stand-up collar finished with a bow and crystal pin at the side front. Washable and needs little or no ironing. Another dress of cotton print with rosebuds encircling multi-colored tiny plaid. The skirt has four yards and trimmed with green lattice work. She also wore a dress of blue all-combed cotton with lace stripe. Needs little or no ironing. The skirt has gathers on each side of front.

Barbara Kelley modeled a pink floral coat style dress with white pique collar in front, and contrasting piping to accent the collar and pockets. Buttons down the front with pink buttons. Another dress worn by Miss Kelley was a wrap-around of aqua print of fine fabric to wash and hang to dry, to slip into of a morning. She also wore a geometric print with white background of orange and brown print, yoke, pockets and belt piped in brown, and brown button trim. A nice sun dress. Another brown and white dress with brown trim. Connor-Waggoner carries a stock for tall girls.

Virginia Chamberlain wore a combed cotton stonecutter seersucker, crease resistant, drip dry fabric. This is a sleeveless coat

Senate Group May Take New Look at City

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—The Senate committee investigating labor and racketeering apparently intends to take another look into the Portland situation.

As Mayor Terry D. Schrunk of Portland was served with a fourth charge in the continuing vice investigation here yesterday, the committee subpoenaed Sheriff's Deputy George Minelli to appear in Washington, D.C., tomorrow. Minelli was chief criminal investigator while Schrunk was sheriff for seven years prior to being elected mayor last year.

Robert F. Kennedy, committee counsel, said in Washington that Schrunk also may be called again later.

The latest grand jury indictment against Schrunk accused him of plotting with Dist. Atty. William Langley, Teamster official Clyde Crosby, and with Oregon Journal reporters and executives to seize wiretap recordings from gambler Big Jim Elkins, 55, in an illegal raid.

Elkins, who has turned state's evidence, is the principal accuser against Teamster officials, Langley and Schrunk. He accuses the Teamsters of attempting to take over rackets here.

The 44-year-old mayor earlier was accused of accepting a bribe from a gambler; of perjury in denying he took the bribe; and of illegally copying wiretaps seized in the raid.

He denied it before the Senate committee that he had accepted a bribe.

Nine other indictments were served yesterday against six men, but the only new ones were against Schrunk and Crosby. Crosby was accused on a charge identical to Schrunk's. The other indictments repeated earlier charges, reworded to correct legal flaws.

Transfer Doty Case to Circuit Court in Saline

Freddie Doty, 18, 2507 West 11th, appeared in the Magistrate Court of Judge Perry G. Storts, Marshall, Monday afternoon and took a change of venue in his case. The case was transferred to the Saline County Circuit Court for the May term.

Doty was charged with driving a motor vehicle at a high and excessive speed. The charges were filed by Prosecuting Attorney Herbert Butterfield of Saline County on complaint of Trooper E. C. Hammerand, of the Missouri State Highway Patrol.

The charges grew out of an accident on Saturday afternoon, April 6, on Highway 65 near the Blackwater bridge in Saline County, in which Henry Carter, 71, was fatally injured and his wife, Stella Carter, 72, seriously injured. Carter died the following day.

Doty was released on a $1,000 bond to appear in the Circuit Court of Judge Phil Cook. He was represented in the Magistrate Court by Frank W. Hayes and William F. Brown, attorneys.

Are You Having Noise Trouble

What constitutes unnecessary noise no doubt has been and will continue to be the subject of many court cases in this modern era of sound and fury.

The constant shock and annoyance of noises to the nervous system of a city dweller is something he may think he can become accustomed to, but this is a fallacy. Physical mechanisms never wholly adjust themselves to such disturbances. This opinion is supported by the numerous complaints of neighbors who frequently seek relief by court action.

In a roundup of cases involving the average citizen versus the less desirable aspects of civilization's noises, Jay Sykes, attorney, writing in the Journal of Lifetime Living, cites, among others, these cases:

In New York City a woman suffering from the loud shrill noises of a car-waxer in an auto repair shop next door was awarded $300 in damages, and the court ordered the waxer removed. A Maryland family whose neighbors kept their radio tuned up full blast won $3,500 in damages because the noise was deliberate and malicious.

Among unnecessary noises is the practice of pushing newly-wedded couples into automobiles and parading the streets with a bedlam of uncouth sounds. As one contemporary puts it, such procedure serves no good purpose, cheapens the sanctity of marriage, and certainly brings embarrassment to the wedding principals. Such celebrants might well add the discharge of firearms to punctuate the uproar of dragging tin cans.

Then there are too many operators of motor vehicles who like to attract attention to themselves by their raucousness. The more noise they can make with horn, squealing tires and brakes, the more important they think they are.

Attorney Sykes also points out that judges have refused relief against the crowing of a rooster or the barking of a dog—although one Kentucky man did get an injunction against a neighbor whose three dogs barked five full hours every day.

While you can get either an injunction or compensation against neighbors whose noises make sleep impossible, you are not entitled to absolute quiet. You cannot, for example, legally complain of the normal pandemonium of a Little League baseball game. Nor will the courts take action against the ringing of church bells or the blowing of factory whistles unless the noise is unnecessary, excessive and made at unreasonable hours.

One thing is patent about noise, inevitably, excessive and unnecessary noise has a detrimental effect on human health and happiness. Noise increases the pulse, quickens blood pressure, upsets the normal rhythm of the heart and results in nerve exhaustion and strain. Loss of sleep, upset digestion, irritability and physical illness all can be caused by unnecessary jarring sounds.

It must be time to turn off that television.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Pat McNamara Target of Secret Huddle

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Their Democratic colleagues don't know it, but Republican members of the Senate Rackets Committee are trying to cook up an investigation they hope will embarrass the lone senator who belongs to the A.F. of L.—Pat McNamara of Michigan, Democrat.

It's not supposed to be known, but three GOP members—Irvine Ives of New York, Barry Goldwater of Arizona, and Karl Mundt of South Dakota—held a secret strategy huddle last week in Ives' office. Also attending were Goldwater's assistant, Dean Burch, and Ives' son and assistant, George Ives.

They agreed to urge Chairman John McClellan, Arkansas Democrat, to investigate labor racketeering in Michigan. To persuade him, they will offer evidence that certain Detroit unions have made a racket of selling work permits to non-union members.

What they don't plan to tell McClellan is that Senator McNamara's former union, Pipefitters Local 636, is one of the alleged violators. McNamara, a Democrat, was president of the local until he ran for the Senate in 1954.

By going into Michigan, the Republicans hope to bring out various charges that might embarrass McNamara, who is also a member of the Senate Rackets Committee. He was mixed up in a union building controversy, for example, that could be revived. His local defaulted on a $150,000 contract to buy a building that the former owner had purchased for only $50,000 three years earlier. The pipefitters lost $62,500 on the deal, and nine union members are still demanding an accounting.

Sen. Potter Sees Ammunition
One of the nine, Demler Mathews, is responsible for arousing Republican interest in McNamara's union. He wrote Sen. Charlie Potter, Michigan Republican, summing up his grievances against McNamara and the pipefitters.

Potter is running for re-election next year. As a Republican, he faces a tough fight in a state where Gov. Mennen "Soapy" Williams has built up a Democratic organization which has consistently defeated Republicans and which has strong labor support.

Potter saw the obvious possibility of knocking a hole in Michigan labor by airing Mathews' charges, so arranged for his attorney to meet with the GOP members of McClellan's Rackets Committee. Potter, himself, did not attend the meeting.

At the meeting, Senator Ives pointed out that it is against the Senate's unwritten rules to investigate a fellow senator. It was agreed, therefore, to request a broad investigation into labor racketeering in Michigan. The charges against McNamara would then come out in the course of the investigation, Ives' son, George, suggested.

The Republicans agreed to go to Chairman McClellan with the charges about the work-permit racket. Some unions allegedly are charging $5 a month for work permits. The permits must be purchased in cash, and the worker must surrender his receipt each month to get another permit.

This investigation, the GOP trio hope, will lead to the pipefitters, their colleague, Senator McNamara, and the end of Gov. Williams' Democratic power in Michigan.

Take Two Aspirins!

An organized letter-writing campaign by doctors, against the proposed federal school-construction program, has finally driven Rep. Lee Metcalf (D., Mont.) to exasperation.

Fed up with "canned" letters, Metcalf got particularly sore after repeatedly reading the doctors' arguments about the alleged unconstitutionality of the school proposals.

Metcalf, a former associate justice of the Montana Supreme Court, wrote back to one:

"I appreciate the legal opinion of a doctor that federal aid to education is unconstitutional. 'My medical opinion as a lawyer, a former associate justice of the Supreme Court of Montana, and a member of the House committee which has had this matter up for four years, is that you should take two aspirins for the headache you are getting, worrying about the constitutionality of a program which predates our constitution.'"

A federal grand jury in Trenton, N.J., has called for the records of drug firms which sold Salk vaccine to the government. The jury is probing into the peculiar manner in which five firms all charged practically the same price to the American public. This could be a criminal violation of the antitrust laws. . . . Ex-Congressman Victor Wickersham of Oklahoma, the big real estate dealer defeated for reelection last November, has been canvassing former colleagues in Congress to raise money for more real estate deals. . . . Congressman Mannie Celler of Brooklyn is quietly looking over the out-of-court settlements of antitrust cases agreed to by the Eisenhower administration during the past four years, especially those involving A. T. & T. A probable witness will be former assistant Attorney General Stanley Barnes, former head of the antitrust division, now a federal judge. Barnes had admitted dabbling in the stock of corporations whose cases were before him in the Justice Department.

S.C., Phoenix, Ariz.—There is no truth to the report that Bob Kennedy, counsel of the Senate Rackets Committee, will run for the Senate in Arizona. Kennedy first wants to do everything in his power to help elect his brother, Sen. Jack Kennedy of Mass., president of the United States. Second, he wants to make a name for himself and stand on his own two feet, but is undecided what course to pursue. While he has talked about running for office—not in Arizona—he would prefer to run in his home state, Massachusetts, where he is well known and where the Kennedy name is a political asset. He might run for attorney general of even governor of Massachusetts, or possibly for Congress. He hasn't made up his mind.

Unpublicized Activity Hard to Evaluate

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—It's what happens behind the scenes—the unpublicized activity—that makes it tough to appraise fully President Eisenhower's handling of foreign affairs.

It can be taken for granted that this country, with its ambassadors all over the world and a seemingly bottomless pocketbook, is talking quietly with foreign governments where it can to win them over and away from Russia.

Each country's own self-interest comes first, no matter how noble its proclamations. That includes this country. Secretary of State Dulles long ago said American foreign policy is based on "enlightened" self-interest.

King Saud of Saudi Arabia and King Hussein of Jordan may be two recent examples of men who have been talked to persuasively behind doors although what was said, if anything, is not likely to be known for years.

Saud was here a few weeks ago and had private talks with Eisenhower. He had been lined up—at least on the surface—with Egypt's anti-Western President Nasser.

Saud and Nasser had one thing in common: Both were hostile to Israel. And the pan-Arabism and Arab nationalism preached by Nasser could, if it worked, strengthen all the Arabs' bargaining position with the rest of the world.

But Nasser, in his anti-Westernism, was leading the Arab world down a dangerous road toward reliance upon Russia. Saud had everything to lose in that direction, including his life and his money.

With the Communists moving in anywhere, a king has no future. And Saud had a lot to lose: 300 million dollars a year from American companies taking oil out of Saudi Arabia, American government money for permitting a United States air base there, and military help that will keep him on the throne.

Since his return to the Middle East, Saud, although he had a conference with Nasser, has done nothing to strengthen Nasser's position. From reports reaching here, he has sided with King Hussein of Jordan.

Hussein was in Nasser's camp too. But he had his crown to lose in a hurry if he persisted in following Nasser and letting the Egyptian steer him clear away from American help.

Jordan needs outside money to survive. And Hussein needs the money to pay his army. He was not getting enough money from Nasser and other Arab countries to accomplish either, although Egypt, Saudi Arabia and Syria had volunteered to provide the aid which Britain discontinued. And last week Hussein fired his Prime Minister after the latter spurned help from Eisenhower's Mideast program.

Hussein's crisis isn't over. The pro-Nasserites in Jordan, and the Communists, open or concealed, may yet do the king in. But his government said yesterday it would welcome talks on American aid.

If it keeps up—one Arab state after another thinking of itself in preference to Nasser—the Egyptian may find himself isolated in the pan-Arabic world he wanted to lead.

If that comes true, the Eisenhower administration, using persuasion and American money, will have made a profitable investment.

Your Child's Health

All Persons Handicapped In Some Way Or Another

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

In recent years much more attention has been given to the handicapped child (and adult) than in the past. This is encouraging, but it seems to me that we should also make every effort to think extremely clearly on this subject.

For example, any handicap is a matter of degree; the question is what activity one is handicapped for. Few of us are born with all the physical and mental qualifications which would permit us to do anything and everything. In one sense, all of us are handicapped. While I should like to play the piano well, this is skill which is quite impossible for me to attain since I am "handicapped" in the way of musical ability.

In speaking of a handicapped child, however, one is not usually referring to this kind of difficulty but rather, according to one definition, a physical impairment of characteristic or because of disturbance in his behavior or limits in his mental capacity, is unable to hold his own with other children of the same age.

The handicap in question may be of body, mind, or behavior and may be severe or slight. It also may be remediable as is, for example, the case with most children born with a club foot or a harelip. Or handicap may be relatively resistant to improvement as is the case with many mentally retarded youngsters.

It is extremely hard for a parent who discovers a serious handicap in a child to avoid becoming emotionally upset over the condition, particularly at the beginning. This is true no matter whether the handicap is present at birth or develops from accident or disease later in the child's life.

However, it is a grave mistake for a parent to blame himself or herself—or the mate—since rarely does a parent intentionally attack a child with the purpose of causing a physical or mental impairment.

The presence of a handicap in a youngster calls for as calm an appraisal by the parents as they can bring to the situation. They will need professional help in deciding how severe the handicap is, and what steps can be made to remedy or at least lessen the disadvantages.

The parents then must discipline themselves to obtain the best advice and care possible and to give the child everything they can without harming the healthful activities of other children in the family. Also, they should never forget how many handicapped children bring courage and much success to overcoming their difficulties.

One of the most sensible discussions of this entire subject which I have seen is the pamphlet published by the Public Affairs Committee and called "How to Help Your Handicapped Child," by Dr. Wishik. The pamphlet is nonpartisan and the pamphlet can be obtained for 25 cents from the committee at 22 East 38th Street, New York 16, N.Y.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.

In Gethsemane Jesus prayed to His Father. He had almost reached the end of His patience. He asked His Father to release Him from this suffering, and from death itself. However, after this momentary weakness He added something to His prayer, "Nevertheless, not My will, but Thine be done."

Jesus has certainly established a prayer pattern which all mankind should follow. Human weakness encourages us to "tell" God what to do and, frequently, how we wish to have our desires carried out.

All mankind must learn that God's will ought to supersede mere personal desires. Let us not review God's promises in our prayers. Let us accept Christ's pattern and seek God's will instead of our own.

The Twin Cities Chorus, of St. Paul and Minneapolis, recently asked if anyone would donate a piano. They were given an upright weighing 1,100 pounds. The donor confessed he couldn't fit the piano through the front door of his new home.

The Female Engineer

US Lags USSR Tapping Source of Good Material

By Esther Van Wagoner Tufty
Of Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON—The girl who gets good marks in mathematics is to be urged to become an engineer, so great is the country's need for more engineers and scientists.

It will take some lively recruiting because today only one per cent of the 700,000 U.S. engineers are women. The USSR makes much as one-fourth of the Soviet engineers are women.

To determine how great is the need is one objective of the special National Committee for Development of Scientists and Engineers, set up by The President.

(There's a shortage here of doctors, too, and only 6 per cent of the medical corps are women, while three-fourths of Soviet doctors are women.)

Do women have the aptitude for engineering?

The U. S. Employment Service ran its General aptitude test battery on 605 boys and 554 girls in their senior year in high school. Engineering aptitudes showed up in 4.2 per cent of the girls and in 6.3 per cent of the boys so it's concluded that aptitude differences cannot explain why less than one per cent of our engineers are women.

A check of married women, who were former winners in the Science Talent Search in high school over ten years, showed many were holding full or part time scientific jobs and many had married scientists.

Some industries have already discovered a new source of technical employees in women. Maynard Boring of General Electric reports that GE's long experience with training women on the job has paid off heavily.

Two industrial cities in New York state, Poughkeepsie and Kingston, have set up the Mid-Hudson Science Advisory Council which is pioneering the community-wide approach to the scientific manpower problem. Fusing the efforts of the schools, professional groups, business and civic organizations, the Council is encouraging girls to study mathematics and science and helping them to get into scientific and technical fields. The community is kept informed of the need for more engineers and scientists and how progress can be made.

Although women form almost a third of the total Labor Force, almost half of these women work on so called "women's" jobs, such as school teaching.

Good Exercise For Children Can Be Spelled W-O-R-K

An expert on physical fitness claims that American children aren't physically active enough and suggests our children be given more physical exercise in schools.

Another solution might be to see that our kids get a little more physical exercise around home.

Why should any family with half-grown children hire all the yard work done, when pushing a lawn mower, pulling weeds, digging holes for shrubs, etc., is all excellent exercise?

Why should Mama hop in the car to chauffeur Junior anywhere he wants to go that is more than a block from home?

Why should having a perfect lawn have become so important that lots of kids living in suburban houses with big yards don't have a place to play baseball or "oot-ball" because Mom and Pop don't want any bare spots on the front lawn?

Why isn't the modern kid ever sent six blocks to the grocery store the way the older kids in a family used to be relied upon for errand running?

Why do so few kids walk to and from school these days, even when the distance isn't great? We say it is because of traffic hazards but after school a lot of these same children play in the streets.

Why do so many parents moan that they can't get Junior to play outside in the summer because he would rather sit in front of the TV set hour after hour? The thing can be turned off, can't it?

Let's not blame the schools if our kids aren't giving their muscles enough of a daily work-out. Exercise for kids and teen-agers should begin at home and there's no reason why some of it can't be spelled WORK.

He kept putting his feet up on the seat in front of him and a little girl, a bit younger, started playing with his shoes. He didn't like it and tried to make her quit. Finally he moved down a little on the other side of his mother, although his mother kept telling him the little girl was not going to hurt his brand new shoes. After a while he seemed to

Wants Shift In Foreign Aid Handling

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont.) proposed today that administration of foreign aid be shifted to the State Department and put in charge of a new under-secretary for economic affairs.

Mansfield, the Senate's acting Democratic leader, also called in an interview for transfer of the United States Information Agency to State and its operation under the direction of the assistant secretary for public affairs.

Mansfield made these proposals after Secretary of State Dulles appealed yesterday for public support to preserve the administration's foreign military and economic aid program from those with "a zeal to economize."

Dulles made this obvious reference to economy advocates in Congress in a foreign policy review before the annual Associated Press luncheon in New York.

Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), like Mansfield a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said he doubts Dulles' appeal will have much effect on economy-minded members of Congress.

"I am going to vote for a great many budget cuts," he said. "We will have to see how the foreign aid program is presented before we can determine what we are going to do about it."

Mansfield said, "It is not only good economy but good business and good logic to bring about a consolidation of the subsidiary arms of foreign policy with the main stem in the State Department so the country can speak with one voice in that field."

The International Cooperation Administration, headed by John Hollister, now operates as an independent agency under State Department policy guidance.

George L. McElroy Jr. was recently promoted to assistant manager of methods department of Union Electric Co., St. Louis. Before his promotion McElroy was administrative assistant and has been with the utility company since 1940 at which time he was employed as a student accountant in the general accounting department. He was later transferred to the financial accounting department and when he returned from military service in 1946 he was assigned to the methods department. He is a graduate of Missouri University receiving his bachelor of science degree in 1939 and his master's in business administration in 1940. He is the son of G. L. Wants Same Answer

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP)—Sheriff Melvin Hawley mused today over a message from Chicago police regarding a 16-year-old boy.

Lyle Wilson, the message said, escaped from jail in a Chicago suburb where he was held on charges of stealing two cars.

"When you find the boy, ask him how he escaped," said the message.

Too bad, said Hawley, that Chicago police hadn't asked the boy how he escaped from the county jail here last February when he was being held on a burglary charge.

Crooner Started Career Singing for Western Union

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't read his mail:

That houseflies have taste buds in their legs—and that's why they enjoy cakewalking all over our food.

That your fingernails grow at the rate of 1½ inches a year, or about 8 feet 9 inches in a biblical lifetime of 70 years.

That bees are color blind, but if they can't see red, why do they get so stinging mad?

That if you want to catch a liar, fasten your gaze just above the bridge of his nose. Most people perspire slightly when telling a lie, and that's the easiest place to detect it.

That crooner Bill Hayes, who today earns over $100,000 a year skipping tunes through his vocal cords, started his career by singing happy birthday messages for Western Union.

That if you have a standard typewriter you can type the word "typewriter" on only one line of the keyboard. You never can tell what they might ask you on a TV quiz program.

That medical statisticians claim a bachelor is three times as likely as a married man to become mentally unbalanced.

That some experts estimate another world war would cost the United States four trillion dollars—on the installment plan, naturally.

That you can be sent to the penitentiary for 10 years in Oregon for illegal possession of a red or black flag; and in Iowa you can be fined $50 for laying a U. S. flag on the ground.

That it takes 60 gallons of water to make a gallon of whisky.

That you'll have a hard time finding a word to rhyme with "film."

That in the town of Azzone, Italy, the citizens are born bald; and stay that way.

That a filling station in Connecticut is owned by John Saglio, whose name, spelled backwards, is "oilgas."

That you can get a free meal in a Michigan restaurant if you can pronounce the owner's name correctly. He is George Pappavlahodimitrakopoulos.

That it was cynical Ambrose Bierce who defined international peace as "A period of cheating between two periods of fighting."

The agency yesterday embargoed less-than-carload rail and air express shipments to Chicago, Philadelphia, San Francisco, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Cleveland and Newark, N.J. Carload lots were not affected.

AP Selects Its Directors For New Year

NEW YORK (AP)—Members of The Associated Press re-elected four directors and elected three new directors yesterday at the annual meeting of the news cooperative.

The results of the balloting were announced early today. Directors re-elected were: Mark Ethridge, Louisville, Ky., Courier-Journal; Bernard H. Ridder Jr., Duluth, Minn., News-Tribune; Harold A. Fitzgerald, Pontiac, Mich., Daily Press; and, for cities of less than 50,000 population, Dolph Simons, Lawrence, Kan., Journal-World.

The new directors were: W.D. Maxwell, Chicago Tribune; George W. Healy Jr., New Orleans Times-Picayune and Times-Picayune-New Orleans States; and John W. Runyon, Dallas, Texas Herald.

There are 18 members of The Associated Press Board of Directors. They are chosen for three-year terms, with the terms of six expiring each year. The men voted on yesterday were nominated by the AP's nominating committee last Jan. 21.

Runyon replaced James M. North Jr., of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, whose death last fall created a seventh vacancy. The term expires in 1959. The vote was 6,101 for Runyon to 4,876 for Charles De Young Thieriot, San Francisco Chronicle.

For director for cities of less than 50,000 population the vote was 6,050 for Simons to 5,198 for Millard Cope, Marshall, Tex., News-Messenger.

The votes for the other directors chosen were: Ethridge — 7,558; Ridder — 7,488; Maxwell — 6,698; Healy — 6,206; Fitzgerald — 6,162.

The votes for others nominated were: James M. Cox Jr., Dayton, Ohio, Daily News, who was running for re-election — 6,065; Nelson Poynter, St. Petersburg, Fla., Times — 4,546; Henry D. Bradley, St. Joseph, Mo., Gazette and Sunday News-Press — 4,049; William R. Mathews, Tucson, Ariz., Star — 3,737; and Jonathan Daniels, Raleigh, N.C., News and Observer — 3,666.

All the directors whose terms expired were renominated except John S. Knight, Chicago Daily News. He was ineligible for renomination because he had served three consecutive terms as a director, the maximum allowed by the AP bylaws.

The nominating committee said Knight had "rendered distinguished service to The Associated Press." The annual meeting unanimously adopted a resolution thanking him for his services.

After Rate Drop Announcement

Farmers Wonder If Benson Will Offer Smaller Payment

WASHINGTON (AP)—Will Secretary of Agriculture Benson offer farmers a smaller payment for participating in the 1958 soil bank program for wheat?

This question was being asked in farm circles today after the secretary announced that the support rate for next year's wheat crop will average $1.78 a bushel or 22 cents less than this year.

Hereofore, payments under the soil bank have been based on price supports. The payments are made to farmers who retire land from production of surplus crops. The 1958 rates for wheat must be announced in the near future because farmers will plant 1958-crop winter wheat in the later summer and fall.

Farmers will earn an average of about $21 an acre for land taken out of wheat for this year's crop. The rate is $1.20 a bushel for the average production of the retired land.

Should the 1958 rate be cut the same percentage as the price support rate, it would be set at about $1 a bushel or 20 cents less than this year.

Department officials said, however, that there is strong argument against cutting the soil bank rate. They say retention of the present rate would offer a strong inducement for farmers to retire wheat land from production than did the same rates for this year's crops. Secretary Benson has expressed desire to make a sizable reduction in wheat surpluses under the soil bank. The

27 Year Old Man Ends Hitchhiking Trip Around World

MUNSEY PARK, N. Y. (AP)—A 27-year-old hitchhiker is home again in this Long Island village after thumbing his way around the world.

Donald Knies said the jaunt took him more than two years but cost only $300. He thumbed rides through 42 countries on motorcycles, trucks, cars, motor scooters, carts, camels and elephants. Knies, who plans to be a teacher, said the trip taught him the world is still a pretty good place whose people are basically the same and good of heart.

Fires Caused Record Loss During 1956

BOSTON (AP)—Big fires shattered all previous records in numbers in North America last year and registered a new high in dollar losses, the National Fire Protection Assn. reported today.

The association said 430 "large-loss" fires — each causing destruction a quarter of a million dollars or more — occurred in the United States and Canada in 1956 — for a total direct loss of $330,156,000.

The 1956 totals were "excessively" larger than those of previous "worst" years, the association reports in its quarterly magazine for April, published this week.

Of 401 persons killed in large-loss fires, 333 lost their lives in big aircraft fires—accidents, the report said.

The total of 430 big fires exceeds by more than a third the 1955 high of 316 large-loss fires, and the direct dollar loss of last year's big fires is greater by 50 million dollars than the previous record loss of $274,374,500, set in 1953.

The 401 deaths compare with 296 in 1955 big fires. Persons injured in other-than-aircraft fires totaled 1,026.

In number, the large-loss fires are only .03 per cent of all fires, but they account for nearly a quarter of the estimated total fire loss of 1956 — expected to total $1,385,000,000.

The industrial fire toll was the largest in history, the study showed, with 117 large-loss fires compared with 78 the previous year. These constituted the largest factor in the huge over-all increase.

Excluding transportation fires, 304 of the large-loss fires occurred in the United States, and 34 in Canada.

States with the largest numbers were California 26, Illinois and Pennsylvania, 25 each; New Jersey, 23; New York and Ohio, 22 each; and Indiana, 16.

New York City has a new Museum of Primitive Art which exhibits accomplishments of native civilizations in the American, Africa, Oceania and early phases of Asia and Europe.

SAY, MR. RABBIT!—Dennis Delph, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Delph, 1524 South Harrison, wants to know about all this Easter egg business as he confronts Mr. Rabbit at the egg hunt conducted Saturday by the Jaycee-Ettes at Liberty Park. Studying Mr. Rabbit to check the truth of his answers is Glen Ray Kirkpatrick, son of Dr. and Mrs. Chester Kirkpatrick, 2305 West Kay. In off-holiday season, Mr. Rabbit lives at 2206 West Fifth under the alias of Charles Wendt. (Democrat-Capital photo)

Children See Easter Bunny At Egg Hunt in Liberty Park

By HAZEL LANG

Is there an Easter bunny? Of course there is. The children in Jaycee families are very certain of that. They saw him — a great big white bunny almost six foot tall who carried an Easter basket filled with candy suckers.

Dennis Delph was so fascinated with him that he couldn't even hunt the hidden Easter eggs; he just followed Mr. Bunny all around.

That is going to be a day those youngsters really remember. Even the weatherman smiled down on them and didn't let it rain until the Easter egg hunt, which took place directly in front of Convention Hall, was over on Saturday morning, the day before Easter.

There were about 50 youngsters of all ages and they were divided into age groups so the big ones wouldn't come out with Easter baskets full of eggs and the others not have any.

Of course, it was more fun to watch the tiny youngsters, many of whom didn't know what an Easter egg hunt was all about and went around stepping on the brightly colored eggs. But there were 35 dozen eggs hidden, so a few stepped-on eggs didn't matter.

"Look at the eggs — look at the eggs!" one little boy kept yelling and going around in circles. He was so excited by the pretty eggs and so many of them just everywhere that he never even thought of picking them up.

"Pick some of them up and put them in your basket," his mother told him. He didn't know that the Easter bunny had put those eggs there for him as well as the rest of the youngsters. He finally came out with three eggs in his basket, while most of the children had four or more.

There were special prizes of chocolate bars to those who found eggs of certain colors, but one little boy didn't bother to see what color the eggs were that he was picking up. He just started taking the shells off and eating the eggs. Wasn't that what eggs were for—to eat?

The very special eggs that won the top prize in each of the age groups were wrapped in silver foil. One little girl won a big prize, and what should it be but a great big chocolate bar, which was a pretty nice prize — but not for her. She is allergic to chocolate.

It was the idea of the Jaycee-Ettes to have an Easter egg hunt for the children, but the Jaycees thought it was a good idea, too, so they joined in on the project. It was the first time they ever had any project for their children and everybody had a good time. A committee composed of Mrs.

Texas Oilman Says 'Snowman' Is Missing Link

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Texas oilman Tom Slick said here today he considered the "Abominable Snowman" a vital missing link in the theory of evolution of man.

Slick and his party flew in today at the end of their reconnaissance to the Barun Valley in eastern Nepal in search of the snowman.

Slick said he came across and photographed two kinds of footprints—one resembling footprints found by British Himalayan climber Eric Shipton, and the other bearing a greater resemblance to human footprints such as his fellow investigator Australian journalist Peter Byrnes saw in Sikkim last year.

He said he is convinced there are two kinds of snowmen—one smaller—but both belonging to the same family.

From his inquiries, he added, he was convinced snowmen walked erect and were therefore nearer to human beings than the gorilla.

He plans to return to the Himalayas again in September "with a larger, more expert team with greater equipment and longer time to complete an inquiry into this vital link."

Quake In Alabama

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—The U. S. Weather Bureau said a slight earthquake shook Birmingham at 3:24 a. m. today. Police and other public agencies said no damage was reported.

OLDS OWNER: "Mary and I decided we ought to get a little more out of life than just the ordinary things. That's when we started thinking about an Olds."

NEIGHBOR: "But what made you choose Olds?"

OLDS OWNER: "Well, we talked to our dealer. Frankly, it was quite a surprise to find that a Golden Rocket 88 cost lots less than we'd guessed."

NEIGHBOR: "That was a mighty good reason."

OLDS OWNER: "Of course, what really sold Mary was looks and style. It has a look that grows on you... won't be out of style overnight. Me, I liked the Rocket Engine. What a sweetheart! 277 horsepower!"

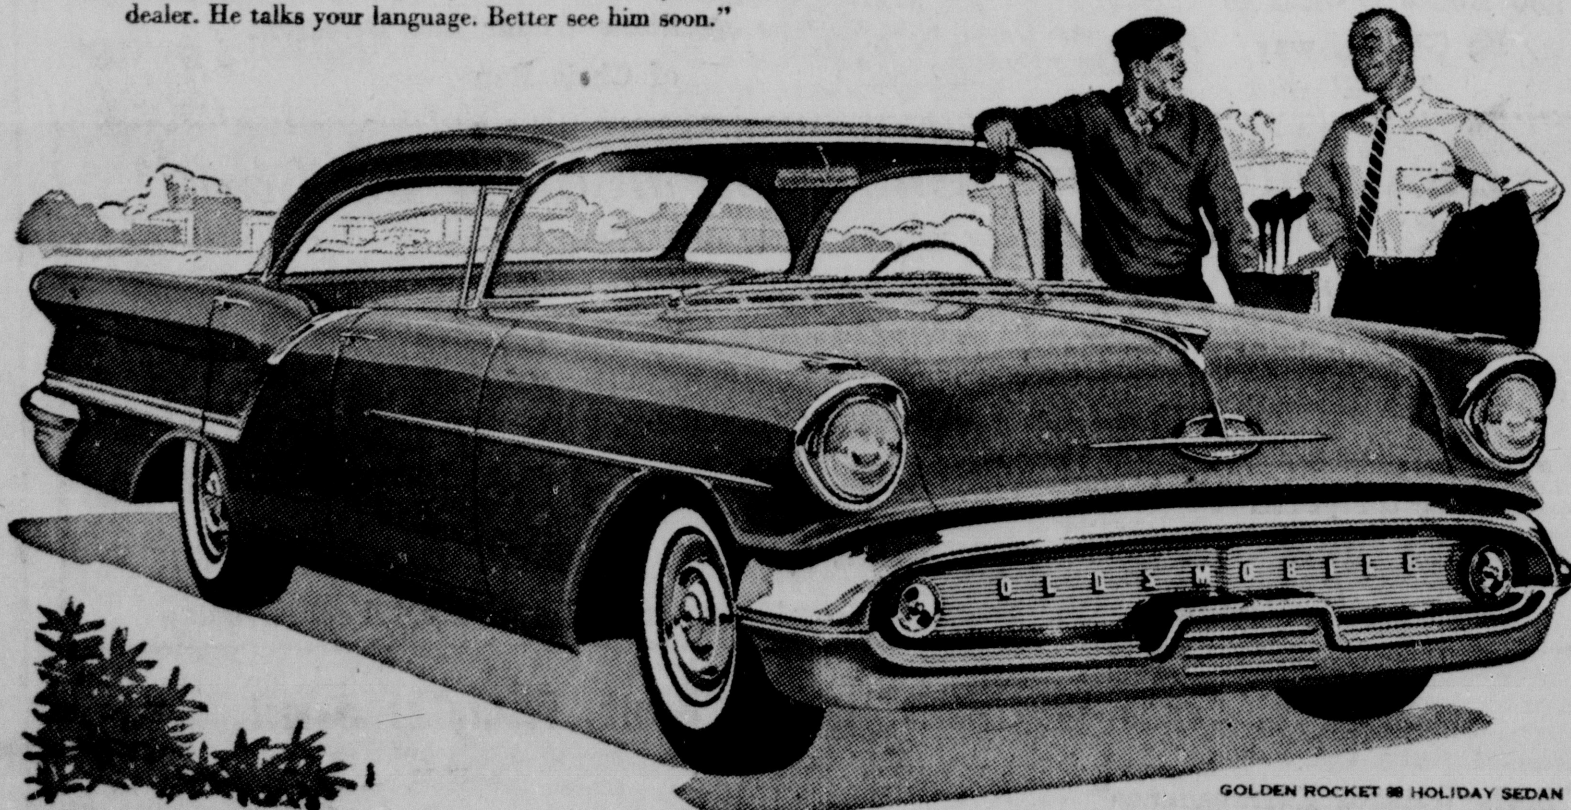

NEIGHBOR: "How does it ride?"

OLDS OWNER: "We think it's the smoothest ride we've ever had. I don't know what Olds did, but you can drive all day and arrive relaxed. No sideway... no leaning... no jolts. It's terrific!"

NEIGHBOR: "We've talked about getting an Olds, too, you know."

OLDS OWNER: "Here, I'll give you the name of my Olds dealer. He talks your language. Better see him soon."

"Sure, I'll tell you why we bought an Olds!"

AF Will Soon Begin Testing Its Missiles

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force is moving into the flight test phase of its ballistic missile program and expects to begin launching virtually complete versions of weapons in the months just ahead.

The missiles to be tested are what designers describe as "production configurations." They are turned out on mass production facilities instead of being hand-built, and lack only some of the detailed equipment which will go into eventual fully operational use by ballistic missile squadrons.

First of the full-scale test firings, at Patrick Air Force Base, Fla., probably will be that of the Thor intermediate range ballistic missile (IRBM). It is to be followed by tests of the Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile (ICBM) and then of the second ICBM design, the Titan.

A vast amount of preliminary testing of parts already has been done, including not only rocket engines but gyro controls, nose cones and guidance equipment.

Experts say that the first test firings of the ICBM will not necessarily involve attempts to reach the full 5,000-mile range south-eastward into the Atlantic.

To attain a 5,000-mile range, it is estimated that the speed of an ICBM must be between 15,000 and 16,000 miles per hour. A somewhat slower speed is required for the 1,500-mile range of an IRBM.

Depending on the range desired, a ballistic missile may be sent up to a trajectory peak of between 300 and 800 miles above the earth.

One Air Force missile official expressed today "complete confidence" in the success of the ICBM project.

There is, he said, "no fundamental engineering problem," but only the task of integrating into a single missile a whole series of complex components.

Under its over-all "weapons system" program, the Air Force is establishing its ballistic missile training center at Camp Cook, Calif., with construction at that base expected to be completed in the next month or two. Here the ICBM crews will be trained in the handling of the weapons, although actual firings will not be made at Camp Cook.

Both the ICBM and IRBM weapons and units will be assigned to the Strategic Air Command, which operates the long-range bomber fleet.

Rescue Team Finds Two Miners Resting At Bottom of Shaft

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP) — A three-man rescue team found two exhausted miners last night resting at the bottom of a 1,000-foot air shaft some 12 hours after an explosive fire caused by a rock fall blocked off the mine's normal exit.

The two men, Walter Olshefski, 41, a section foreman, and Earl Hill, 33, a fire boss, made their way from the 1,500-foot level at the Glen Alden Corp.'s Inman Shaft, some 200 feet into the tunnel to the air vent before giving in to exhaustion.

Unable to climb the steep slope to the mine cage, they were hauled on a thick plank to the top of the shaft and taken to Community General Hospital. Physicians said they were "in mild shock" but had not been injured.

Cactus Spines Found On Plane Indicate Contact With Ground

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Tiny cactus spines seem to bear out the theory that a loaded passenger plane actually scraped against the ground in losing 10 feet of its left wing. It landed safely half an hour later.

The twin-engine Frontier Airlines DC3 limped into Phoenix Sunday after diving an estimated 4,000 feet in a severe downdraft. Twenty-three jittery passengers and three crewmen climbed out unhurt.

Inch-long cactus spines were found embedded in the wing's leading edge yesterday. News-men also noticed what appeared to be rock scratches.

Capt. Everett Aden of Denver plans to fly about 50 miles north of Phoenix today to hunt for the missing 10-foot piece of wing. If the cactus spines in the wing match those in the area in which the wing is found, Aden said, "that will wrap it up."

Says Threat Of Inflation Hurts Papers

NEW YORK (AP) — William Dwight, president of the American Newspaper Publishers Assn., said today the "threat of inflation" has become a "major concern" to the nation's newspapers.

Several other executives joined Dwight in sounding the same warning in talks prepared for the start of the ANPA's 71st convention at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

The publishers were to meet in three executive sessions — for newspapers with circulation under 10,000; 10,000 to 50,000; and over 50,000.

Dwight, of the Holyoke (Mass.) Transcript-Telegram, told the under-10,000 group that publishers' problems are becoming "increasingly complex" each year.

"The threat of inflation is added to the 1957 list of major concerns," he said. "This system of people's capitalism we have developed in the United States, in fact our way of life, is at stake; and we newspaper publishers must apply our full powers and resources to the cause of halting the trend that can only lead to the destruction of our assets."

"There is no group in the land who can do more to fight inflation," he added.

Philip S. Weld of the Gloucester (Mass.) chairman of the session, asked:

"When do we go to 7 cents?"
"A year from now," he said. "most of us will recognize the nickel newspaper as being as much a thing of the past as the 5 cent 'phone call or the penny postcard."

"Now is the time to be thinking how we can make our newspapers so vital and entertaining that they're worth 10 cents, not 7."

David B. Lindsay Jr. of the Sarasota (Fla.) Herald-Tribune and Journal told the 10,000-to-50,000 session that publishers face "a constantly rising curve of costs in all the labor and materials that go into our newspapers."

Lindsay, chairman of the session, said the latest ANPA reports show that average newspaper wages and the cost of newsprint have both increased about 25 per cent since 1950.

ANPA Treasurer Mark Ferree of Scripps-Howard Newspapers, New York, said newspaper circulation and advertising volume are at an all-time high, and "so are wages paid to newspaper employees."

"I am sorry the same cannot be said for publishers' profits," he added.

Ferree also said newspapers "still have problems of the public's right to information about public meetings and public records at every level of government."

Ferree spoke to the over-50,000 group.

ARRESTED IN GIRL'S SLAYING—Thomas Joseph Higgins, left, 22-year-old oil burner service man, is escorted by detective at Brooklyn police station in New York after he was picked up on a street. Police said he admitted the hammer slaying of Patricia Ruland, 19, who was found unconscious on a Brooklyn street after midnight Thursday and died two hours later. Police said he also admitted the slaying of a Brooklyn widow about three months ago and nine other assault cases. (AP Wirephoto).

Union Official Challenges Senator at Meet

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — An indicted Teamsters Union official jumped up to challenge Sen. Neuberger (D-Ore) when the senator called last night at a labor meeting for guarantees against "reckless handling of union funds."

"I invite you to see my lavish home which cost around $8,900, and you may check into my net worth. You may even dig in my back yard for tin cans with buried money," said Clyde Crosby, top Teamster official in Oregon.

Neuberger, speaking at Portland Central Labor Council meeting, declined to get into a debate with Crosby, who is under four indictments here, including charges of accepting a bribe and conspiracy to commit extortion.

The senator did not single out the Teamsters Union in calling for a program of standards "which either deserve legislative protection or which must be assured and protected by action within unions themselves."

These included assurance of democratic procedures and protection of union funds.

Crosby asserted later, however, in remarks sometimes tinged with sarcasm:

"It is fine that you should use the Teamsters as an example, since we are the only racketeers mentioned so far. But nothing has been proved as yet, and it won't be... I don't believe any money has been misused. I am getting thinned with all of these indictments. I am sick of the view that I have attained distinction as a racketeer."

'Rock 'n' Roll' Seen As Lazy Way to Dance

MIDDLEBURG, N.Y. (AP) — A man observing his 90th birthday today figures rock 'n' roll is a lazy way to dance. That is, compared with what went on when he fiddled at the hop-picking square dances.

"After a hard day's work among the hops we would start our square dance at about 8 p.m. and keep right on going until the sun came up," says Andrew Moore.

Moore had to learn to fiddle in the woods when he was a boy. His mother believed "the devil was in a fiddle," he recalls.

The annual two-week hop-picking spree in this rural area southwest of Albany now is a thing of the past. Growing of hops, used in making beer and ale, became unprofitable for the farmers about 50 years ago.

The pickers were paid only 30 cents for filling a box, and that took four hours.

But Moore says "the people really didn't pick hops for the money. They came for the fun that everybody had."

Another part, Moore says, was picking up a girl and throwing her into the hop box she had been filling. This would compress the hops and make her work all the harder to fill the box.

Six-Man Tag Match Slated Here Tonight

TONIGHT'S WRESTLING CARD

In Sedalia Armory—8-15

MAIN EVENT

(Six-Man Tag Team Match)

Mighty Atlas, 225, Hollywood; Joe Dusek, 233, Omaha, and Rip Hawk, 224, Toledo, O., vs. Gentleman Jim Dobie, 116, Independence, Mo.; Thor Hagen, 230, Minneapolis, and Larry Hamilton, 232, St. Joseph, Mo. Best out of three falls, or a 60-minute time limit.

SEMI-WINDUP

Thor Hagen, vs. Joe Dusek. Best two out of three falls, or a 45-minute time limit.

OPENING EVENT

Larry Hamilton vs. Rip Hawk. One fall, or a 30-minute time limit. Matches sponsored by Pettis American Legion Post.

Clear the ring for action. The first six-man tag team wrestling match on record in recent seasons is set for the Sedalia Armory tonight.

There will be more than 1,400 pounds of wrestling dynamite involved in the battle for supremacy when the two outstanding three-man teams collide in a showdown.

Thor Hagen, the popular reigning Missouri state champion, and Mighty Atlas, the arrogant Hollywood string man, are the captains of the rival tag trios.

Six-man team matches are the greatest action-filled attractions known in the pro-wrestling sport. And Matchmaker Gust Karras has really come up with a natural in signing tonight's six contestants.

The Sedalia area mat fans have been requesting two witness a six-man match here but Karras held off signing this type of attraction until he could really contract six outstanding stars. Karras has certainly achieved his goal in arranging tonight's six-man attraction.

Of special interest, too, is the semi-windup square off between Hagen and Dusek. The latter wrestler has been irked by what he calls "the runaround" in the state title picture during the past month.

While Dusek claims he has been sidetracked in the title challenge position, Hagen feels otherwise. The popular Minnesotan hasn't had an idle moment since dethroning Bob Orton.

Hagen is not required by the rules to defend his title in a match not listed as a main event with a 60-minute time limit. However, Thor said that if he loses to Dusek he will accept Dusek's challenge for the title without delay.

The wide-open feud between Hamilton and the Hawk will get tonight's card off to a bristling start. Hawk boasted that he ran Hamilton out of Missouri. Apparently Hawk boasted once too often for Hamilton asked for an immediate matching on an individual basis with the rowdy Ohioan.

Tonight's matches get under way at 8:15.

S-C Linksmen Lose in Dual Kemper Meet

Smith-Cotton's golfers, paced by Vic Van Dyne, met their second defeat in as many meets this season when Kemper's four-man squad rapped the Tigers 11-1 on the Boonville course Monday afternoon. It was a Central Missouri Conference meet.

Van Dyne won the lone point for the Sedalians. He also carded an exceptionally good score, 36-34—70, to lead his team. But his two-under-par performance was slightly overshadowed by Jim LeBus, a Texan attending Kemper, who drilled a blazing 33-35—68. Mac Colt, another Kemper sharpshooter, toured the 18 holes in 37-35—72, or even par.

Besides Van Dyne, other Smith-Cotton medal scores were: Mike Lee, 49-38—87; Tommy Austin, 44-41—85; and Loy Holman, 45-42—87. John Harlow with 39-40—79, and Ed Dulgensky with 39-39—78 rounded out Kemper's winning combination.

The Tigers are playing another conference dual meet at Mexico today, and will play at Fulton on Thursday.

Sophia Loren, Anna Magani Finally Meet In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Tuesday top—
Sophia Loren may have met working on the Paramount lot

Repair money? Go to HFC

When you need money for home or auto repairs, or for any good reason, remember, you may borrow up to $1000 from HFC. One day's service, up to 24 months to repay, friendly money counsel when needed—these are reasons why more people borrow from HFC each year.

these days, so they have a chance to shake hands. It seems incredible that two titans of the Roman film industry had never met.

"But it is true," said Sophia. "Film people are not a tight little colony in Rome. We do our work and then go home to different parts of the city. We do not see our fellow workers socially, as you do here. And I think it is better, because we do not have to talk movies all the time."

Has she met Gina Lollobrigida? "Yes, but only for five minutes—in a studio in London," Sophia explained. She recently made a picture with Rossano Brazzi, but they had never met until production started.

tongues over how Jayne Mansfield tried to out-bust Sophia by her entrance at the Romanoff's party before the "Boy on a Dolphin" preview. Also over Jayne's acrobatics at the "Spirit of St. Louis" preem. Pish-tush! Jayne is doing a yeoman job in her one-woman campaign to restore some excitement to this tired old town.

Hollywood won't soon forget Frank Sinatra's gratuitous nine-night run at the Mocambo to help out the owner's widow. Not only did it turn the tide of publicity in Frank's favor. It also afforded the movie colony a closeup look at the Sinatra magic.

As someone pointed out, the guy comes out on the night club floor and defies you not to like him. While his voice is past its prime, his style is better than it ever was. He sings each song as if he had just grasped the meaning of the words. His ballads are great and now he can handle faster tunes with rare skill, something he lacked in his earlier days.

SMOKE SIGNALS—Despite controversy over the possible effects of cigarettes on health, Americans consumed 392 billion cigarettes in 1956, 40 billion more than the previous year, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Tobacco men forecast an even greater consumption this year, continuing the trend evidenced in the Newschart. Export of cigarettes also is expected to rise. The 1956 total output of 424 billion cigarettes still was under 1952's 435½ billion.

TV Quizzes Will Continue Next Season

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—As far as one can discern the shape of next season's television network programming, there are plans to continue all the 17 quiz programs now on the air, give or take one or two.

It's time to ask a question: Where can television quiz programs go from here? What will be the incentives by which they hope to hold their audiences? More money or more fabulous prizes?

There's little satisfaction in discussing the question with quiz program producers. If they have any first-rate new ideas, they naturally keep them secret.

In the area of money, however, they are rapidly bidding themselves to an incredible inflationary peak. One short year ago $64,000 seemed a great deal of money. Then along came The Big Surprise with $100,000. Now the $64,000 Question offers a contestant the chance of winning $256,000—and never again will those lesser figures seem so impressive.

There is a limit to everything—especially money. And it appears that some of the quiz programs have bid themselves to their limit.

If they cannot offer more money on what basis will they bid for public attention? With more complicated gimmicks of score-keeping? In this area, too, the programs seem to have gone as far

About Town

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Bruns and sons, Michael and Dennis of Springfield, Ill., and Wayne Ragar, Hartland, Wis., spent the Easter weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Ragar, 1319 South Barrett. Mr. and Mrs. Bruns have returned to Illinois but Michael and Dennis are spending several more days with their grandparents. They will be accompanied home by their uncle as he returns to Wisconsin.

S. P. Johns, Seattle, Wash., a former Sedalia, is here for a visit with relatives. Mr. Johns is a brother of the late W. M. Johns and R. M. Johns.

Mrs. W. W. Blain, 511 Dal-Whi-Mo, returned home Saturday from St. Louis and St. Clair, called by the sudden illness and death of her brother, R. C. Murphy.

Mr. Murphy, whose home was St. Clair, became ill on Saturday and was taken to Barnes Hospital, St. Louis, where he died Wednesday.

The funeral home from which he was buried was the home his great grandmother had built in St. Clair 134 years ago, when as a widow with ten children, she pioneered to Missouri from Lynchburg, Va. Besides the 11 room home which is now the funeral home she built the Methodist church, a school and gave the ground for the cemetery. Seven generations of the family have lived in St. Clair since that time and with the passing of Mr. Murphy only one member of the family, a cousin, remains in the town.

Mr. Murphy would have received his 50-year pin as a Scottish Rite Mason in May. He is survived by his wife.

Mrs. Blain was accompanied home by two other brothers, Charles H. Murphy, McMinnville, Tenn., and Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Murphy of Denver, Colo., who have all returned to their homes.

as they can. The highly gimmicked programs have not fared as well as their more straightforward cousins. Thus Edgar Bergen's quiz has quit the air.

The programs are left standing approximately where they began: with human personality. They are, by their candid admission, huge casting organizations. By carding and indexing, searching and examining, they seek contestants with whom the vast audience of viewers may fleetingly identify themselves.

It's in this realm of personality that quiz programs will continue to succeed or fail.

FROM PAKISTAN—To commemorate the first anniversary of its becoming an independent republic, Pakistan has issued a group of special postage stamps. Pictured above are the 3½-anna and 10½-anna items in the new issue.

G. Heck Elected Chamber President

The annual membership meeting of the Green Ridge Chamber of Commerce was held recently and the following officers and members were elected for the ensuing year: Glen E. Heck, president; Melvin Ray, vice-president; J. A. Gordon, treasurer. Board members are as follows: Lloyd Brown, Leon Morgan, Dennis Brownfield, F. L. Calvert, C. M. Purchase, C. A. Wisdom, Bernard O. Dove and Royal Ragar.

The out-going president, Lloyd Brown, gave a general report of the activities of the Chamber of Commerce during the past year. Among the many activities and contributions during the past year was the recent contribution of $75 for the support of the Green Ridge Community Baseball League, which will be made up of teen age boys. The superintendent of the Green Ridge Schools, Vergil Ogilvie, will be the manager.

Mutual Club Meets With Mrs. Kendrick

Mrs. A. M. Kendrick was hostess to the members of the Mutual Improvement Club, Saturday afternoon, April 20, at her home. Mrs. Carl Johnson presided during the business session. She also gave a very interesting report of the Sophomore Pilgrimage to Jefferson City. Gaylor Alfrey of the Green Ridge High School was sponsored by the Mutual Improvement Club. A note of appreciation was read from him for having been sent on the trip.

An interesting and informative review of "The Missouri", by Stanley Vesta, was given by Mrs. Earl Hinken, a member of the Literature Department.

Refreshments were enjoyed by 16 members. Mrs. Kendrick was assisted in serving by Miss Gayle Kendrick.

Merchants Try New Ways To Cure Ills

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The retail merchant today is trying out a number of cures for his new crop of ailments.

His troubles are: rising operating costs, shrinking profit per dollar of sales, and increased competition from new kinds of stores and new methods of selling.

Some merchants are giving self-service a whirl. One observer predicts that 20,000 more stores will initiate self-service this year.

Others are adding new lines and each day becoming more like the general store of yore.

While some are trying to lick their problems by getting bigger, others are seeking to entertain the customers and make them feel at home as they did in the old-time marketplace.

Downtown stores in big cities are pursuing their customers to the suburbs with branches.

The big one-stop shopping center on a main highway keeps on springing up in all parts of the land.

Merchants have discovered drawbacks—in costs or customer reaction—to each of these ideas. But shrinking profits from the old ways of merchandising spur the quest for new.

Department store net profits have dropped to 2.75 per cent of gross sales from 7.8 per cent at the end of World War II. Chain variety store profits are 3.4 per cent at latest count, down from 9.9 per cent in 1946. Drugstore earnings topped to 4.9 per cent from 8.6 per cent.

While the retail sales in general were rising 84 per cent between 1940 and 1955, department store sales were going up just 32 per cent. And supermarkets, enjoying their big era of expansion, saw sales volume rise by 371 per cent.

Believers in self-service think that has a lot to do with the supermarket's growth. Gustav L. Nordstrom, executive director of the Folding Paper Box Assn.,—whose members love self-service because they make packages for the goods handled in such stores—says that one out of three persons who enter department stores go out without buying anything. This, he says, seldom happens in a supermarket.

The Folding Paper Box Assn. says that while department stores are slow to change to self-service, some 20,000 other retail outlets will start using it this year.

But there's still a hard core of shoppers who want to be waited on. Some merchants hold that such shoppers will go where they get the kind of service they demand.

Billings Returns From Formosa Area

LONG BEACH, Calif. (PHTNC)—James M. Billings, sonarman first class, USN, son of Mrs. Sylvia Orcutt of 917 East 11th, arrived at Long Beach, Calif., recently aboard the destroyer USS George K. Mackenzie from the Far East.

The Mackenzie patrolled the Formosa straits as a unit of the Taiwan Patrol Force.

The ship visited Pearl Harbor, T. H.; Subic Bay, Republic of the Philippines; Yokosuka, Japan; Kaohsiung, Formosa; and Hong Kong.

SHOT DOWN IN CHURCH—Helen Griffith, 20, was shot down during a revival pre-Easter service in a small church at Cove, Ark. She is shown here as she appeared two years ago on graduation from Cove High School. She was fatally wounded by four shots from a .22 caliber pistol.

Buffet Supper Given For Millard Eaton Jr.

Millard Eaton Jr. observed his 21st birthday with a buffet supper and card party Easter Sunday given by his mother, Mrs. Lorene Brown, 213 South Grand.

The Easter theme was carried out in decorations. Two birthday cakes encircled with Easter eggs centered the serving table.

After the honoree opened his gifts the evening was spent playing cards.

Guests were: Sonny Thomas, Bob Lane, Tato Agee, Sandy Johnson, Mrs. Ida Eaton, Hughesville, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Smith and children, Randy and Terry, Mr. and Mrs. William Hill Jr., Debbie and Dickie, Patsy Eaton and Christine Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Smith and Robert Suits were unable to attend.

Music Festival To Honor Casals In First Concert

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—A cheering, capacity audience of 2,000 persons last night heard the concert opening Puerto Rico's first two-week music festival honoring Pablo Casals.

The podium where the famed cellist would have stood was empty. American violinist Alexander Schneider conducted the 47-man orchestra from the concert master's chair in the violin section.

Casals suffered a heart attack last week during rehearsals. He was resting under sedation last night and did not even hear the broadcast of the concert.

At the start of the program it was announced from the stage in the University of Puerto Rico theater that the entire festival is being dedicated to the 80-year-old Spanish-born musician. He now makes his winter home in Puerto Rico, his mother's birthplace.

The crowd came to its feet to applaud after the closing number, Schubert's Fifth Symphony. To the surprise of the cheering throng, Schneider led the orchestra in a repeat of the Bach C Major Suite which had opened the program.

Schneider, a disciple of Casals, launched the festivals seven years ago at Prades, France, where Casals was in self-imposed political exile from his native Spain and retirement from public appearances.

Dedicating the festival to Casals, a spokesman said the artists participating "have expressed their desire to repeat this festival here or anywhere else at any time if Maestro Casals so wishes in the future."

Ku Klux Klan Drops Fight on Catholicism, Opens Membership

GREENVILLE, S.C. (AP)—The Ku Klux Klan's apparently irrevocable fight against Catholicism is being revoked.

Imperial Officer Bill Hendrix of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan said Klan membership has been opened to Catholics.

Hendrix, a Floridian in charge of programs for the Klan, announced the decision following a weekend meeting of the Imperial Council here. He said 64 Klansmen from 21 states attended.

"The fight of this group of the Klan today, Hendrix said, "is against integration, communism and federal controls."

In Charleston, the Rt. Rev. John L. Manning, speaking for the bishop of the Charleston Diocese which governs South Carolina Catholics, said:

"The very nature of the Ku Klux Klan would prohibit any Catholic from joining. They are a professedly anti-Catholic organization. The idea is self-contradictory by its very nature. No serious Catholic would join."

how big is a gas pipeline?

A REPORT TO THE
CONSUMERS OF NATURAL GAS IN OUR SERVICE AREA

CITIES SERVICE GAS COMPANY
FIRST NATIONAL BUILDING
OKLAHOMA CITY 1, OKLAHOMA
April 23, 1957

Dear Friends:

Today the 6,582 miles of pipelines in our system are BIG ENOUGH to insure a dependable flow of natural gas to the communities we serve—and to the homes in these communities. We are proud to be among the few gas transmission companies that contract to supply sufficient quantities of this wonderful fuel to meet the entire requirements of every home served by your local gas company.

During the past ten years, the unprecedented growth of the 344 communities served by our system has called for a continuing search for new gas reserves—the development of vast underground storage facilities—the building of hundreds of miles of pipelines—the installation of several thousand additional horsepower at our compressor stations. One hundred and seven million dollars of new capital has been invested for this tremendous expansion.

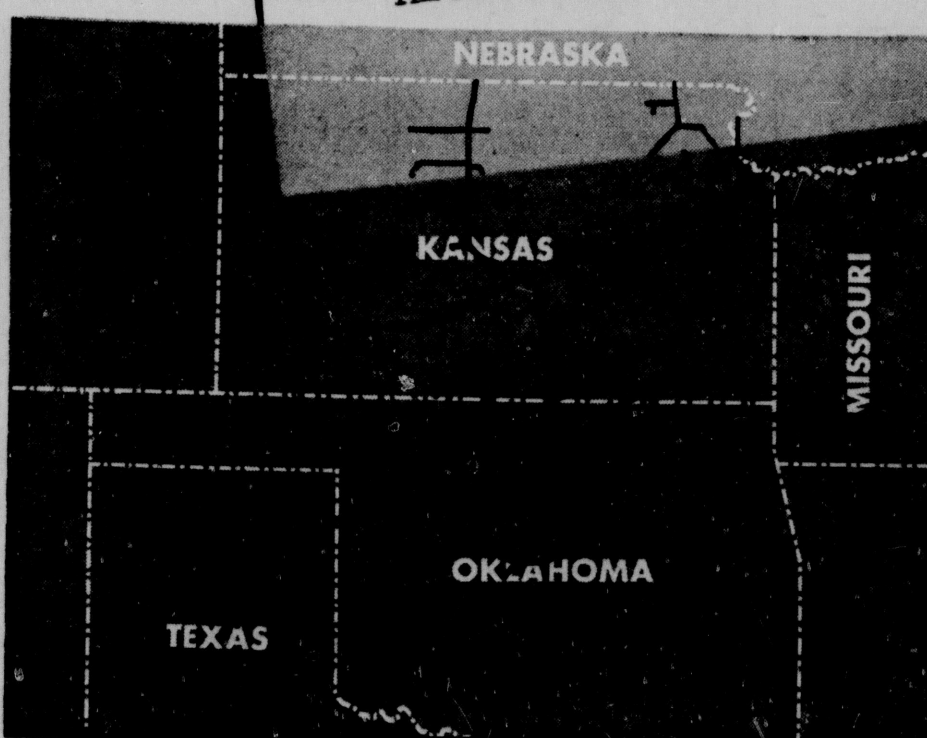

Again this year, in order to continue serving the needs of your growing communities, we are undertaking another multi-million dollar expansion program which will further enlarge the capacity of our system. This entails the construction of 133 miles of pipelines and the addition of 2,350 horsepower to our compressor stations. Again we must ask investors for the new capital needed to make sure that our pipelines will be BIG ENOUGH in the future to continue bringing you an adequate supply of the premium fuel that provides the bright blue flame of better living.

Let me assure you that natural gas will always be one of your biggest bargains in comfort and convenience—so long as there is the incentive to find, produce, transport and distribute this modern fuel to home and industry.

Sincerely,

K.E. Crenshaw
